SECTION 2.—INTERNATIONAL CLASSIFICATION

The short titles associated below with the international class numbers are terms designed merely for quick identification and are not an official part of the international classification. The full names of international classes are given in section 6.1 of the trademark rules of practice.

The designation "U.S. Cl." appearing in this section refers to the U.S. class in effect prior to Sep. 1, 1973 rather than the international class which applies to applications filed on or after that date. For adoption of international classification see notice in the OFFICIAL GAZETTE of Jun. 26, 1973 (911 O.G. TM 210).

Patent Cooperation Treaty Update

Withdrawal of Chapter II Reservations by Liechtenstein and Switzerland

The United States Patent and Trademark Office received notification from the World Intellectual Property Organization (WIPO) that on June 1, 1995, Liechtenstein and Switzerland notified the withdrawal of their declarations under Article 64(1)(a) of the PCT. Liechtenstein and Switzerland will become bound by Chapter II of the PCT on September 1, 1995.

The withdrawals of the declarations has the effect that, on and after September 1, 1995,

(a) nationals and residents of Liechtenstein and Switzerland may submit demands for international preliminary examination of international applications filed by them;

(b) Liechtenstein and Switzerland may be elected in demands for international preliminary examination, or in later elections, submitted in respect of international applications in which Liechtenstein and Switzerland are designated States;

(c) paragraphs (a) and (b) apply irrespective of whether the international application is filed before, on or after September 1, 1995.

The time limit for entering the national phase before the Swiss Federal Intellectual Property Office will be extended from 20 to 30 months from the priority date if Liechtenstein and Switzerland are elected in a demand for international preliminary examination or in a later election, provided the said demand or later election is received before the expiration of the 19th month from the priority date, even in respect of international applications which are pending on September 1, 1995.

Information in Oath/Declaration Necessary to Identify the Specification for an Application filed under 35 USC 111 in Accordance with 37 CFR 1.63

This notice supersedes the previous notice published at 1035 Off. Gaz. Pat. Office 3 on September 12, 1983, and is intended to make it easier for an applicant(s) to comply with the identification requirement of 37 CFR 1.63.

37 CFR 1.63 requires that an oath or declaration identify the specification to which it is directed. The declaration form suggested by the Office includes spaces for filling in the names of the inventors, title of invention, application number, filing date, foreign priority application information and United States priority application information. While this information should be provided, it is not essential that all of these spaces be filled in order to adequately identify the specification in compliance with 37 CFR 1.63(a)(2).

The following combinations of information supplied in an oath or declaration filed on the application filing date with a specification are acceptable as minimums for identifying a specification and compliance with any one of the items below will be accepted as complying with the identification requirement of 37 CFR 1.63:

(1) name of inventor(s), and reference to an attached specification which is both attached to the oath or declaration at the time of execution and submitted with the oath or declaration on filing;

(2) name of inventor(s), and attorney docket number which was on the specification as filed; or

(3) name of inventor(s), and title which was on the specification as filed.

Filing dates are now granted on applications filed without an oath or declaration in compliance with 37 CFR 1.63, the oath or declaration being filed later with a surcharge. The following combinations of information supplied in an oath or declaration filed after the filing date are acceptable as minimums for identifying a specification and compliance with any one of the items below will be accepted as complying with the identification requirement of 37 CFR 1.63:

(1) name of inventor(s), and application number (consisting of the series code and the serial number; e.g.,08/123,456);

(2) name of inventor(s), serial number and filing date;

(3) name of inventor(s) and attorney docket number which was on the specification as filed;

(4) name of inventor(s), title which was on the specification as filed and filing date;

(5) name of inventor(s), title which was on the specification as filed and reference to an attached specification which is both attached to the oath or declaration at the time of execution and submitted with the oath or declaration; or

(6) name of inventor(s), title which was on the specification as filed and accompanied by a cover letter accurately identifying the application for which it was intended by either the application number (consisting of the series code and the serial number; e.g.,08/123,456), or serial number and filing date. Absent any statement(s) to the contrary, it will be presumed that the application filed in the PTO is the application which the inventor(s) executed by signing the oath or declaration.

Any specification that is filed attached to an oath or declaration on a date later than the application filing date will not be compared with the specification submitted on filing. Absent any statement(s) to the contrary, the "attached" specification will be presumed to be a copy of the specification and any amendments thereto which were filed in the Office in order to obtain a filing date for the application.

Any variance from the above guidelines will only be considered upon the filing of a petition for waiver of the rules under 37 CFR 1.183 accompanied by a petition fee (37 CFR 1.17(h)).

Further, an oath or declaration attached to a cover letter referencing an incorrect application may not become associated with the correct application and, therefore, could result in the abandonment of the correct application.

Supplemental oaths or declarations in accordance with 37 CFR 1.67 will be required in applications in which the oaths or declarations are not in compliance with the other requirements of 37 CFR 1.63 but contain sufficient information to identify the specifications to which they apply as detailed above.

A copy, such as a photocopy or facsimile transmission, of an originally executed oath or declaration is acceptable and may be filed. In the event that a copy of the original is filed, the original should be retained as evidence of authenticity. If a question of authenticity arises, the Patent and Trademark Office may require submission of the original. See 37 CFR 1.4(d)(2).

See MPEP § 1896 for the identification requirements for a declaration filed in a U.S. national stage application filed under 35 USC 371.

These changes will appear in MPEP § 601.01 in the next revision of the Manual.

Changes to Disclosure Document Program

The PTO is revising and clarifying the Disclosure Document Program to improve processing and to simplify customer requirements. The following changes to the Disclosure Document Program are effective upon publication:

• Duplicate copies of documents are no longer required. Only the original document is required for submission.

• The original Disclosure Document will not be returned to the customer.

• A self addressed, stamped envelope is no longer required.

• A standard format for the disclosure Document is required:

1) The document must be written on one side only, on white letter-size (21.6 cm x 27.9 cm or 8 1/2 by 11 inches) or DIN Size A4 (21.0 x 29.7 cm) paper. (Oversized paper, although foldable to the above dimensions, is not acceptable.) 2) Drawings or sketches must be on paper the same size as the rest of the document.

• The fee for filing a Disclosure Document is $10.00. Documents submitted without the full fee will be returned.

[Docket #:]
RIN 0651-AA75

Changes to Implement 18-Month Publication of Patent Applications

Agency: Patent and Trademark Office, Commerce.
Action: Notice of proposed rulemaking.
Summary: The Patent and Trademark Office (Office) is proposing to amend the rules of practice in patent cases primarily to implement changes related to the 18-month publication of patent applications in title 35, United States Code, contained in the Patent Application Publication Act of 1995 (H.R. 1733). Among the changes that are contained in H.R. 1733 would be the publication of patent applications after 18 months from the earliest filing date for which a benefit is sought, and the addition of provisional rights to the rights provided in a patent. These changes would apply to utility and plant applications other than provisional applications, but not to design applications. H.R. 1733 was introduced in the House of Representatives on May 25, 1995. The amendments to title 35 relating to 18-month publication, if enacted as proposed, would be effective on January 1, 1996.
Dates: A public hearing will be held on Tuesday, September 19, 1995, at the Holiday Inn - National Airport, 15th Street and Jefferson Davis Highway, Arlington, Virginia, at 9:30 a.m. Those wishing to present oral testimony must request an opportunity to do so no later than September 14, 1995. Written comments must be submitted on or before September 19, 1995.
Addresses: Address written comments and requests to present oral testimony to the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, Washington, D.C. 20231, Attention: Stephen G. Kunin, Deputy Assistant Commissioner for Patent Policy and Projects. In addition, written comments may also be sent by facsimile transmission to (703) 305-8825, with a confirmation copy mailed to the above address, or by electronic mail messages over the Internet to early-pub@uspto.gov.

Written comments should include the following information:

- name and affiliation of the individual responding;
- an indication of whether comments offered represent views of the respondent's organization or are the respondent's personal views; and
- if applicable, information on the respondent's organization, including the type of organization (e.g., business, trade group, university, non-profit organization).

Parties mailing written comments are asked to provide their comments in machine readable format. Machine-readable submissions may be provided on a 3 1/2 inch floppy disk formatted for use in either a Macintosh or MSDOS-based computer. Machine-readable submissions should be provided as unformatted text (e.g., ASCII or plain text), or as formatted text in one of the following file formats: Microsoft Word (Macintosh, DOS or Windows versions) or WordPerfect (Macintosh, DOS or Windows versions).

Written comments and transcripts of the hearings will be available for public inspection on or about October 2, 1995, in Room 520 of Crystal Park One, 2011 Crystal Drive, Arlington, Virginia, and will be available on or about October 2, 1995, through anonymous file transfer protocol (ftp) via the Internet (address: ftp.uspto.gov).

For Further Information Contact: Stephen G. Kunin by telephone at (703) 305-8850, by facsimile at (703) 305-8825, by electronic mail at rbahr@uspto.gov, or Jeffrey V. Nase by telephone at (703) 305-9285, or by mail marked to the attention of Stephen G. Kunin, addressed to the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, Washington, D.C. 20231.

Supplementary Information

This proposed rule change is designed primarily to implement the changes in practice related to the publication of patent applications provided for in H.R. 1733. A copy of this legislation may be obtained from the individuals identified in the "For Further Information Contact" section of the notice.

Section 122 of title 35, United States Code, currently provides that patent applications are maintained in confidence until a patent is granted. H.R. 1733, if enacted, would amend 35 U.S.C. 122 to provide that each application for patent, except for design applications filed under 35 U.S.C. 171 and provisional applications filed under 35 U.S.C. 111(b), shall be published "as soon as possible after the expiration of a period of 18 months from the earliest filing date for which a benefit is sought," but provides that applications that are no longer pending and applications that are subject to a secrecy order under 35 U.S.C. 181 shall not be published.

H.R. 1733 includes a provision (35 U.S.C. 122(b)(2)) that, upon request, an application of an independent inventor who has been accorded status under 35 U.S.C. 41(h) will not be published until three months after an Office action under 35 U.S.C. 132; however, applications filed under 35 U.S.C. 363 and applications claiming the benefit of an earlier filing date under 35 U.S.C. 119, 120, 121, 365(a) or 365(c) are not eligible for such a request. In addition, H.R. 1733 provides that an applicant making such a request must certify that the invention disclosed in the application was not or will not be the subject of an application filed in a foreign country. H.R. 1733 provides that the Commissioner may establish appropriate procedures and fees for such a request.

H.R. 1733, if enacted, would further amend 35 U.S.C. 119 to provide that the claim and certified copy of the original foreign application must be filed in the Office at such time during the pendency of the application as required by the Commissioner, and that the Commissioner may consider the failure of the applicant to file a timely claim for priority as a waiver of any such claim. H.R. 1733, if enacted, would likewise amend 35 U.S.C. 120 to provide that the Commissioner may determine the time period during the pendency of the application within which an amendment containing the specific reference to the earlier filed application shall be submitted, and that the Commissioner may consider the failure of the applicant to file a timely claim for priority as a waiver of any such claim.

H.R. 1733, if enacted, would further amend 35 U.S.C. 102(e) to include applications published pursuant to 35 U.S.C. 122(b) within its scope. H.R. 1733, if enacted, would provide that the costs of early publication shall be recovered by adjusting the filing, issue and maintenance fees, by charging a separate publication fee, or by any combination of these methods. H.R. 1733, if enacted, would also provide that, upon issuance of the application as a patent, the patent shall, where the invention claimed in the patent is identical to the invention claimed in the published application, include provisional rights during the period from publication until issuance of the patent.

H.R. 1733 also includes amendments relating to 20-year patent term and provisional applications. Specifically, H.R. 1733 includes an amendment to 35 U.S.C. 119(e) to provide that if the day that is twelve months after the filing date of a provisional application falls on a Saturday, Sunday, or Federal holiday within the District of Columbia, the period of pendency of the provisional application shall be extended to the next succeeding secular or business day. H.R. 1733 also includes an amendment to 35 U.S.C. 154(b) to: (1) include an unusual administrative delay by the Office in issuing the patent as a basis for patent term extension; (2) provide that the total duration of all extensions under 35 U.S.C. 154(b) shall not exceed ten years, as opposed to the five year limit currently provided in Public Law 103-465; (3) provide that no patent that has issued before the expiration of three years after the filing date of the application or entry of the application into the national stage under 35 U.S.C. 371 shall be extended under 35 U.S.C. 154(b); (4) provide that no patent whose term has been disclaimed beyond a specified date shall be extended under 35 U.S.C. 154(b) beyond the expiration date specified in the terminal disclaimer, and (5) provide that any period of extension under 35 U.S.C. 154(b) shall be reduced by the period during which the applicant for patent did not engage in reasonable efforts to conclude processing or examination of the application, rather than the "due diligence" provision applicable to extensions under 35 U.S.C. 154(b)(2) in Public Law 103-465.

The current planning approach to the implementation of early publication is to create an electronic data base which captures the technical content, i.e., the specification, abstract, claims and drawings, of the application-as-filed. A data capturing operation will enable the creation of a data base containing image and text equivalent of the technical contents of the application-as-filed. Application materials will be digital image and/or optical character recognition (OCR) scanned by the Office for entry into this electronic data base. This electronic data base will be used to provide a source for (a) meeting publication requirements for the applications, (b) providing a basis for electronic searching and retrieval of applications, and (c) providing a basis for producing copies of the technical contents of the application-as-filed. The publication of an application will take the form of publishing information necessary to identify the applicant and the technical subject matter of the application, i.e., a Gazette Entry, in a separate Gazette of Patent Application Notices, with a one-page printed publication, i.e., a Patent Application Notice or PAN, containing similar information for placement in the paper search files. Published applications will be assigned a sequential Patent Application Notice (PAN) number in the manner that issued patents are assigned a sequential patent number. In addition, a document including the Patent Application Notice and the technical contents of the application-as-filed, designated as the Technical Contents Publication, will be available to the public upon publication.

The digital images of the technical contents of the application- as-filed, i.e., the Technical Contents Publication, will be available for public review. Paper copies of the Patent Application Notice and Technical Contents Publication will also be available for purchase similar to the way paper copies of patents are currently available for purchase. When budgetary and process considerations permit, text searching of the Patent Application Notice and Technical Contents Publication will be implemented.

The information provided to Patent and Trademark Depository Libraries will be expanded to include weekly issues of the Gazette of Patent Application Notices (provided by the Government Printing Office), and a CD-ROM collection of facsimile images of the Patent Application Notices and Technical Contents Publications. The public would also be able to place subscription orders to receive weekly paper copies of the Patent Application Notices and Technical Contents Publications published in specific classes and subclasses similar to the way such orders are currently placed for issued patents, as well as subscription orders to receive the CD-ROM collection of facsimile images of the Patent Application Notices and Technical Contents Publications.

H.R. 1733, as proposed, does not specifically exclude applications that are national security classified from those applications to be published. Executive Order 12356 and a number of statutes, e.g., 42 U.S.C. 2011 et seq. (the Atomic Energy Act of 1954), 15 U.S.C. 1155 (provides that the Secretary of Commerce shall respect and preserve the security classification of inventions in the possession or control of the Department of Commerce), and 18 U.S.C. 798 (provides criminal sanctions for the disclosure of classified information) preclude the publication of a national security classified application. Further, the publication requirement in H.R. 1733, as proposed, provides some latitude to the Commissioner to publish applications later than 18 months from the earliest filing date for which a benefit is sought. Therefore, the publication of a national security classified application will be delayed until such application is either declassified, which will permit publication of the application, or subjected to a secrecy order pursuant to 35 U.S.C. 181, which will exclude the application from publication by the express terms of H.R. 1733, as proposed. In view of national security considerations, and the current statutory prohibitions on the disclosure of classified information, it is appropriate to specifically exclude those applications that are national security classified from publication under the provisions of H.R. 1733.

While H.R. 1733, if enacted, would not directly affect design applications, this notice of proposed rulemaking includes a proposed amendment to § 1.154 such that the arrangement for a design application will be consistent with the arrangements for a utility (§ 1.77) or plant (§ 1.163) application, as well as a proposed amendment to § 1.5 to provide that a paper concerning a provisional application must identify the provisional application as such and by application number. In addition, while this proposed rule change is designed primarily to implement the changes in practice related to the publication of patent applications provided for in H.R. 1733, a number of proposed rule changes set forth in this notice of proposed rulemaking would be desirable even in the absence of an 18-month publication system. Specifically, this proposed rule change is also designed to: (1) clarify which applications claiming the benefit of prior applications or prior applications for which a benefit is claimed in a later application will be preserved in confidence; (2) amend the rules pertaining to the format and standards for application papers and drawings to improve the standardization of patent applications; (3) broaden the application of § 1.131 to instances in which inventions of a pending application or patent under reexamination and a patent held by a single party are not identical, but not patentably distinct; (4) broaden the application of §§ 1.78(c) and (d) to patents under reexamination, (5) clarify the practice for the delivery or mailing of patents; (6) provide for the treatment of national security classified applications; (7) expedite the entry of international applications into the national stage; and (8) amend a number of rules for consistency and clarity. Since these proposed rule changes may be adopted as final rules even in the absence of an 18-month publication system, interested persons are advised to comment on any proposed rule change, regardless of whether H.R. 1733 is enacted. If H.R. 1733 is amended during the legislative process, the final rules will comply with this legislation as enacted. If H.R. 1733 is not enacted, the proposed rules that would implement publication of patent applications would be withdrawn.

In a Notice of Public Hearing and Request for Comments on 18-Month Publication of Patent Applications (18-Month Publication Notice) published in the Federal Register at 59 FR 63966 (December 12, 1994) and in the Patent and Trademark Office Official Gazette at 1170 Off. Gaz. Pat Office 390-94 (January 3, 1995), the Office requested public comment on the procedures the Office should adopt if an 18-month publication system was enacted. The 18-Month Publication Notice set forth the Office's planning approach for the implementation of 18-month (pre-grant) publication of patent applications, and specifically presented fourteen (14) questions on which comment was invited. An oral hearing was conducted on February 15, 1995.

Sixty-five (65) written comments, as well as two (2) Law Review articles concerning the pre-grant publication of pending patent applications, were submitted. Of the sixty-five (65) comments, forty (40) submitted comments directed to at least one of the questions presented in the 18-Month Publication Notice. Sixteen (16) persons testified at the public hearing conducted on February 15, 1995.

Response to Comments on the 18-Month Publication Notice

The following questions were presented in the 18-Month Publication Notice. Each question is followed by a summary of the comments submitted in response to the question, and the proposed disposition of the issue presented in the question.

1. Should the PTO require that all official application-related materials be delivered to a central location? Specifically, what problems would a requirement that all official application-related materials be delivered to a central location cause?

Summary: A slight majority of the comments opposed a requirement that all official application-related materials be delivered to a central location.

Response: As the Office currently considers the delivery of all official application-related materials to a central location to be unnecessary to the currently planned approach to implementation of 18-month publication, no change to the rules of practice to require that all official application-related materials be delivered to a central location will be proposed.

2. Should the PTO adopt a standard application format? If so, what portions of the application papers should the PTO require be submitted in a standard size and/or format, and what sanction (e.g., surcharge) should be established for the failure to comply with these requirements?

Summary: A majority of the comments favored the implementation of a standard application format, so long as an applicant was given a time period in which to comply with this format, i.e., failure to comply with the standard application format did not deprive the application of a filing date. In addition, a number of comments indicated that any additional requirements should not be inconsistent with European Patent Office (EPO) or Patent Cooperation Treaty (PCT) requirements, or in excess of those requirements necessary for the implementation of 18-month publication.

Response: The Office is proposing to change the rules of practice to institute only those additional standardizations which are consistent with the requirements set forth in PCT Rule 11, and are considered necessary for the digital image and OCR scanning of application materials into an electronic data base. Those additional standardizations are that: (1) applications be submitted on flexible, strong, smooth, non-shiny, durable and white paper (PCT Rule 11.3); (2) the papers be typewritten by a typewriter or word-processor, i.e., hand-written application materials would no longer be acceptable, with 1 1/2 or double spaced lines (PCT Rule 11.9(c)), and in permanent "dark" ink (PCT Rule 11.9(d)) and portrait orientation, i.e., with the shorter sides of the paper on the top and bottom (PCT Rule 11.2(d)); (3) the sheets of papers be the same size and either 21.0 cm. by 29.7 cm. (DIN size A4) or 21.6 cm. by 27.9 cm. (8 1/2 by 11 inches) (PCT Rule 11.5), with a top margin of at least 2.0 cm. (3/4 inch), a left side margin of at least 2.5 cm. (1 inch), a right side margin of at least 2.0 cm. (3/4 inch), and a bottom margin of at least 2.0 cm. (3/4 inch) (PCT Rule 11.6(a)); (4) the pages of the application be numbered consecutively, with the numbers being centrally located above or below the text (PCT Rule 11.7); and (5) the claims be on a separate sheet (PCT Rule 11.4). Finally, §§ 1.52(b) and 1.84(x) are proposed to be amended to provide that no holes should be provided in the paper or drawing sheets due to the potential for their interference with the scanning operation.

Section 1.52(b) currently requires that application papers be written on but one side, and § 1.72(b) currently requires that the abstract be on a separate sheet. In an application filed without: (1) typewritten application papers on flexible, strong, smooth, non-shiny, durable and white paper; (2) 1 1/2 or double spaced lines in portrait orientation; (3) permanent "dark" ink typing; (4) sheets of papers of the same size and either 21.0 cm. by 29.7 cm. (DIN size A4) or 21.6 cm. by 27.9 cm. (8 1/2 by 11 inches), with a top margin of at least 2.0 cm. (3/4 inch), a left side margin of at least 2.5 cm. (1 inch), a right side margin of at least 2.0 cm. (3/4 inch), and a bottom margin of at least 2.0 cm. (3/4 inch); (5) the pages of the application including claims and abstract be numbered consecutively, starting with page one, with the numbers being centrally located above or below the text; (6) application papers typed on but one side; and (7) an abstract and claims on a separate sheet, the applicant will be given a time period, non-extendable under § 1.136(a), in which to file a substitute specification in compliance with § 1.125 on application papers in compliance with §§ 1.52(a) and (b). The Office, however, does not propose to require a surcharge for the failure to comply with these standardizations on filing.

Additional standardizations to the rules of practice concerning drawings requirements are also being proposed. Currently, § 1.84(f) permits paper sizes of 21.6 cm. by 35.6 cm. (8 1/2 by 14 inches), 21.6 cm. by 33.1 cm. (8 1/2 by 13 inches), 21.6 cm. by 27.9 cm. (8 1/2 by 11 inches), and 21.0 cm. by 29.7 cm. (DIN size A4). Section 1.84(f), as proposed, would permit paper sizes of only 21.0 cm. by 29.7 cm. (DIN size A4) or 21.6 cm. by 27.9 cm. (8 1/2 by 11 inches). The use of these paper sizes, which correspond to the paper sizes required under § 1.52(b), as proposed, would not impact the current Automated Patent System (APS) database, and would permit a fully automatic scanning operation due to their similar size. To electronically store, display, and print drawings paper sheet sizes up to 21.6 cm. by 35.6 cm. (8 1/2 by 14 inches) would require modifications of the APS system hardware, software, displays, and printers. In addition, the digital image scanning of drawing paper sheet sizes up to 21.6 cm. by 35.6 cm. (8 1/2 by 14 inches) would require a semi-automatic scanning operation, thus increasing scanning costs significantly. Therefore, § 1.84(f), as proposed, would permit paper sheet sizes of only 21.0 cm. by 29.7 cm. (DIN size A4) or 21.6 cm. by 27.9 cm. (8 1/2 by 11 inches), with a top margin of at least 2.5 cm. (1 inch), a left side margin of at least 2.5 cm. (1 inch), a right side margin of at least 1.5 cm. (9/16 inch), and a bottom margin of at least 1.0 cm. (3/8 inch), thereby leaving a sight no greater than 17.0 cm. by 26.2 on 21.0 cm. by 29.7 cm. (DIN size A4) sheets, and a sight no greater than 17.6 cm. by 24.4 cm. (6 15/16 by 9 5/8 inches) on 21.6 cm. by 27.9 cm. (8 1/2 by 11 inch) sheets (PCT Rule 11.6(c)). As PCT Rule 11.6(d) provides that the margin requirements apply to 21.0 cm. by 29.7 cm. (DIN size A4) sheets such that a copy of the drawings sheet on a 21.0 cm. by 29.7 cm. (DIN size A4) sheet leaves the required margin, the requirement for drawing sheet sizes of only 21.6 cm. by 27.9 cm. (8 1/2 by 11 inches) or 21.0 cm. by 29.7 cm. (DIN size A4) is not a substantive drawing limitation in excess of PCT Rule 11.

Currently, formal drawings are not required until an application has been allowed. As a drawing figure will be included in the Gazette Entry in the Gazette of Patent Application Notices, as well as the Patent Application Notice, drawings of sufficient quality for digital image scanning into an electronic data base will be necessary for the initial processing of the application. In instances in which an application is filed with drawings of such poor quality as to preclude their digital image scanning into the electronic data base, it will be necessary to set a time period, non-extendable under § 1.136(a), in which to file drawings of sufficient clarity, contrast, and quality and in the proper size and format for electronic reproduction by digital imaging.

Currently, a complete application under § 1.51(a) does not require an abstract on a separate sheet, claims on a separate sheet, application papers typed on but one side of the paper, or application papers or drawings of sufficient clarity, contrast, or quality or in the proper size or format for electronic reproduction, and, as such, an application may be filed under § 1.60 from a prior application not in a format necessary for the image and/or OCR scanning of the application materials into an electronic data base. Therefore, an amendment to § 1.60(d) is necessary to assure the prompt filing of application papers including an abstract and claims on a separate sheet, application papers typed on but one side of the paper, and application papers and drawings of sufficient clarity, contrast, and quality and in the proper size and format for electronic reproduction.

Currently, the filing of the copy of the specification from the prior application, or a new specification, in an application filed under § 1.62 is considered improper. As applications filed prior to January 1, 1996, will not have been image- or OCR-scanned into the electronic data base, the technical contents of an application filed under § 1.62 in which the prior application was itself filed prior to January 1, 1996, will not be contained in the electronic data base. For applications under § 1.62 which do not add additional disclosure, i.e., continuation or divisional applications, the Office will obtain the microfiche copy of the prior application and image or OCR scan it into the electronic data base. For applications under § 1.62 which add additional disclosure, i.e., continuation-in-part applications, a substitute specification and drawings will be necessary for image or OCR scanning into the electronic data base. Therefore, an amendment has been proposed to § 1.62 to provide that, where the application is a continuation-in-part application, a substitute specification in compliance with § 1.125 and drawings will be required.

Section 1.62 currently provides that no copy of the prior application or new specification is required, and further provides that the filing of such a copy or specification will be considered improper, and a petition is necessary to obtain the date of deposit of the request for an application under § 1.62 as the filing date. Section 1.62, as proposed, would provide that the failure to provide any required substitute specification would not affect the filing date of the application, but a time period, non-extendable under § 1.136(a), would be set for its filing. Section 1.62, as proposed, would further provide that any new specification filed in an application under § 1.62 would not be considered part of the original application papers, but would be treated as a substitute specification under § 1.125. Any request to treat a new specification filed in an application under § 1.62 as part of the original application papers may be by way of petition under § 1.182.

Finally, amendments to §§ 1.77, 1.154, and 1.163 have been proposed to provide a standard arrangement for utility, design, and plant applications, respectively. This standard arrangement will include, inter alia, a Fee Transmittal form for utility, design, and plant applications, a Utility Patent Application Transmittal form. a Design Patent Application Transmittal form, a Plant Patent Application Transmittal form, and a Plant Color Coding Sheet for plant applications. Standardized versions of the Fee Transmittal form, Utility Patent Application Transmittal form, Design Patent Application Transmittal form, Plant Patent Application Transmittal form, Plant Color Coding Sheet, as well as a standard Declaration form and Plant Patent Application Declaration form, are included as an Appendix A to this notice of proposed rulemaking.

3. Assuming that the entire application is not published, what information concerning the application should be publishedin the Gazette of Patent Application Notices?

Summary: A slight majority of the comments indicated that the printed publication should include the entire application, or at least the claims, each independent claim, or a claim of each statutory class in the application. The remaining comments that did not oppose pre-grant publication indicated that any Patent Application Notice should contain information similar to what is published in the Official Gazette or sufficient information to determine whether further investigation was warranted. Those comments that opposed any pre-grant publication opposed publication of any information other than the applicant's name, address and a "non-enabling" abstract of the invention.

Response: The Technical Contents Publication will include a copy of the Patent Application Notice, and the specification, abstract, claims and drawings of the application-as-filed. The Technical Contents Publication will be available for public review through video display terminals in the Public Search Room and through CD-ROM collections of facsimile images of Patent Application Notices and Technical Contents Publications in the Patent and Trademark Depository Libraries. Copies of the Patent Application Notices and Technical Contents Publications will also be available for purchase under the conditions that paper copies of patents are currently available for purchase. When budgetary and process constraints permit, text searching of the Patent Application Notices and Technical Contents Publications will be implemented.

H.R. 1733, if enacted, would not provide any appropriations to cover the costs of early publication, but would provide that these costs are to be recovered by adjusting the filing, issue and maintenance fees, by charging a separate publication fee, or by any combination of these methods, i.e., that the patent applicant is to bear the costs of publication. A number of comments have criticized this method of allocating the publication costs as pre-grant publication provides no benefit to the patent applicant. The Office was required to balance the requests for a printed publication conveying the greatest amount of application information with those comments opposing additional publication costs. To provide the maximum amount of application information at the lowest cost to applicant, the specification, abstract, claims and drawings of the application-as-filed will be available for public review in the Technical Contents Publication.

4. Should the patent applicant receive a copy of the published application — either published notice and/or application content at time of publication?

Summary: A majority of the comments indicated that the applicant should receive a copy of the Patent Application Notice.

Response: The Office proposes to provide for the delivery of the Patent Application Notice similar to the current delivery of patents.

5. Should the PTO permit an accelerated examination? If so, under what conditions?

Summary: A majority of the comments favored permitting accelerated examination. A number of comments indicated that accelerated examination should be provided for applicants who either: (1) meet the current conditions for accelerated examination; or (2) pay a relatively high fee, i.e., that the Office should add the payment of a high accelerated examination fee to the current conditions for providing an accelerated examination. A number of comments, however, indicated that adding the payment of a high accelerated examination fee to those conditions for providing an accelerated examination would benefit large companies at the expense of small entities.

Response: The Office will provide accelerated examination only under the current conditions set forth in § 1.102, as described in MPEP 708.02. Accelerated examination is currently provided depending upon the subject matter of the invention, medical condition of the applicant, business circumstances, or the willingness of the applicant to participate in a special accelerated examination procedure. Increasing the number of applications receiving accelerated examinations could diminish the availability or speed of accelerated examination to an individual applicant because there will be more applications receiving an accelerated examination. It would further delay the examination of applications not provided with accelerated examination. Adding a condition for providing accelerated examination which bears no relationship to the merits of the application or circumstances of the applicant, i.e., for the mere payment of a fee, is not considered appropriate. Therefore, the Office does not propose to change the conditions under which the examination of an application will be accelerated.

The Office, however, will continue to make special an application under the conditions currently set forth in MPEP 708.02 (VIII), special examining procedures for certain new applications - accelerated examination. MPEP 708.02 (VIII) provides that a new application may be granted special status provided that the applicant: (1) submits a written petition to make special accompanied by the fee set forth in § 1.17(i); (2) presents all claims directed to a single invention, or if the Office determines that all the claims presented are not obviously directed to a single invention, will make an election without traverse as a prerequisite to the grant of special status; (3) submits a statement that a pre-examination search was made; (4) submits one copy each of the references deemed most closely related to the subject matter encompassed by the claims; (5) submits a detailed discussion of the references pointing out with the particularity required by § 1.111(b) and (c) how the claimed subject matter is distinguishable over the references; and (6) submits any affidavit or declaration under § 1.131 that is necessary to overcome the references before the application is taken up for action, but in no event later than one month after request for special status. An application granted special status under MPEP 708.02 (VIII) will be taken up by the examiner before all other categories of applications except those clearly in condition for allowance and those with set time limits, such as examiner's answers, etc., and will be given a complete first action which will include all essential matters of merit as to all claims.

6. Since the cost for publishing applications must be recovered from fees, how should the cost of publication be allocated among the various fees, including the possibility of charging a separate publication fee?

Summary: The overwhelming majority of comments opposed a separate publication fee. Most comments indicated that the costs of publication should be spread over the existing fees, with the remaining comments indicating that these costs should be absorbed by those accessing the published applications or the Office.

Response: H.R. 1733, if enacted, would not provide appropriations for the Office to absorb the publication cost, but provides that the "Commissioner shall recover the costs of early publication ... by adjusting the filing, issue, and maintenance fees, by charging a separate publication fee, or by any combination of these methods." Notwithstanding that H.R. 1733, if enacted, would not authorize the Office to recover the costs of publication through those seeking access to the published application, the demand for publication products, e.g., Patent Application Notices and Technical Contents Publications, would not be consistent, and it would not be possible to project the demand for publication products with the degree of precision necessary to recover a substantial portion of the publication costs through the inclusion of such costs in the fees charged for the publication products. In addition, the Office will supply, inter alia, CD-ROM collections of facsimile images of the Patent Application Notices and Technical Contents Publications under the condition that CD-ROM collections of patent images are currently supplied. As the Office has no authority to control the further duplication of such images, it would not be practicable to attempt to recover publication costs through increases in the fees charged for publication products, since those persons desiring copies of Patent Application Notices or Technical Contents Publications would simply obtain them from the original purchasers of the CD-ROM collections, who need not include any publication costs in their prices. Therefore, the Office proposes to adjust the filing, issue, and maintenance fees to recover the costs of publication.

In a Notice of Proposed Rulemaking published in the Federal Register at 60 FR 27934 (May 26, 1995) and in the Patent and Trademark Office Official Gazette at 1174 Off. Gaz. Pat Office 134-50 (May 30, 1995), a number of changes to the rules of practice to, inter alia, adjust patent and trademark fees to reflect the fluctuations in the Consumer Price Index (CPI) pursuant to 35 U.S.C. 41(f) were proposed (Patent and Trademark Fee Notice of Proposed Rulemaking). The proposed patent and trademark fee adjustments, if adopted in final rules, would take effect on October 2, 1995 (October 1, 1995 being a Sunday), prior to the effective date of the fee increase in this notice of proposed rulemaking to recover the costs of publication. The proposed amendments to §§ 1.19(b)(1)(i) and 1.19(b)(1)(ii) are repeated in this notice of proposed rulemaking for clarity. The Office estimates that it will cost about $9 million to publish applications in Fiscal Year 1996. To allocate these costs among the filing fees of those applications which the Office anticipates will be filed in Fiscal Year 1996, the issue fee for those applications for which the Office anticipates payment of an issue fee in Fiscal Year 1996, and maintenance fees due at three (3) years and six (6) months, seven (7) years and six (6) months, and eleven (11) years and six (6) months for those patents for which the Office anticipates payment of the respective maintenance fees in Fiscal Year 1996, a further increase in the filing fee for an original nonprovisional (35 U.S.C. 111(a)) or reissue application to $780 ($390 for a small entity) and a plant application to $540 ($270 for a small entity), issue fee for an original or reissue application to $1280 ($640 for a small entity) and a plant application to $660 ($330 for a small entity), maintenance fee due at three (3) years and six (6) months to $1020 ($510 for a small entity), maintenance fee due at seven (7) years and six (6) months to $2020 ($1010 for a small entity), and maintenance fee due at eleven (11) years and six (6) months to $3020 ($1510 for a small entity) is necessary to recover the costs of publication in Fiscal Year 1996. A comparison of existing fee amounts, fee amounts proposed in the Patent and Trademark Fee Notice of Proposed Rulemaking, and fee amounts proposed in this notice of proposed rulemaking is included as an Appendix B to this notice of proposed rulemaking.

7. Should the PTO require an affirmative communication from a patent applicant indicating that the applicant does not wish the application to be published, or should failure to timely submit a publication fee be taken as instruction not to publish the application? That is, should an application be published unless the applicant affirmatively indicates that the application is not to be published, regardless of whether a publication fee has been submitted?

What latitude should the PTO permit for late submission of a publication fee?

Summary: An overwhelming majority of the comments (except for those who opposed any pre-grant publication) favored a requirement that an applicant affirmatively communicate that an application is being expressly abandoned to avoid publication of the application at 18 months.
Response: The Office does not process applications as abandoned until seven (7) months after the mailing date of an Office action to allow for extensions of time under § 1.136(a) and mailing delays. Where no response to an Office action setting a shortened statutory period for response of three (3) months mailed at 13 months after filing in an application is received, the application becomes abandoned by operation of 35 U.S.C. 133 at 16 months after filing, but is not recognized or processed by the Office as an abandoned application until 20 months after filing, and thus would be published in regular course at 18 months. Therefore, an applicant intending to permit an application to become abandoned for failure to respond to an Office action mailed within seven (7) months of the projected publication date must take affirmative action to avoid publication of the application.

The Office intends to indicate the projected date of publication on the filing receipt. Any person who wants to avoid publication of the application at 18 months must submit a letter of express abandonment in sufficient time to permit the Office to act on the letter. Likewise, any person who considers the projected date of publication on the filing receipt to be incorrect must submit a request to correct the projected date of publication in sufficient time to permit the Office to act on the request.

Currently, the Office considers two (2) months to be the minimum time necessary to avoid publication of an application. Therefore, any letter of express abandonment or request to withdraw the application from publication submitted less than two (2) months from the projected date of publication will not be considered effective to avoid publication of the application at the projected date of publication. The Office also intends to indicate on the filing receipt the date by which an application must be expressly abandoned to avoid its publication.

8. The delayed filing of either a claim for priority under 35 U.S.C. 119 or 120 may result in the delayed publication of the application. Should priority or benefit be lost if not made within a reasonable time after filing? What latitude should the PTO permit for late claiming of priority or benefit?

Summary: A large majority of the comments indicated that claims for priority under 35 U.S.C. 119 and 120 should be lost if not timely filed. A number of comments also indicated that there should be provisions for the acceptance of late claims for priority.
Response: The submission of a claim for priority under 35 U.S.C. 119 or 120 later than four (4) months prior to the publication date appropriate for an application claiming that priority date will result in delays in the publication of the application and will interfere with the publication process. Therefore, the Office proposes to change the rules of practice to provide that claims for priority under 35 U.S.C. 119 or 120 must be made within two (2) months of filing, or fourteen (14) months from the filing date for which a benefit is desired, whichever is later. To avoid a potential loss of patent rights to an applicant who inadvertently failed to present a timely claim for priority, the Office further proposes to provide for the acceptance of late claims for priority submitted during the pendency of the application with a surcharge, so long as the delay in submitting the claim for priority was unintentional.

9. Once the patent has issued, should the paper document containing information similar to that published in the Gazette of Patent Application Notices, i.e., the Patent Application Notice, be removed from the search files, and should publication information be included on the issued patent?

Summary: A majority of the comments indicated that the Patent Application Notice should not be removed from the search files.
Response: The Office will not remove the Patent Application Notice from the search files upon issuance of the patent.

10. After publication, should access to the content of the application file be limited to the originally filed application papers? If not, what degree of access should be permitted? Should access be limited to the content before publication, or should it extend to materials added after publication?

Summary: A majority of the comments indicated that, upon publication, the access to the content of the application file should not be limited.
Response: The Office proposes to change the rules of practice to provide that, upon publication, access to the entire content of the application file would be permitted. To avoid undue interference with the examination of the application, however, the public access to the application file of a pending published application is proposed to be limited to obtaining, upon the payment of the fee set forth in § 1.19(b)(2), a copy of the application file produced during non-working hours by the Office when the application file is made available by the appropriate patent application processing organization. The Office also proposes to provide, upon the payment of the fee(s) set forth in § 1.19(b)(4), as proposed, a copy of specifically identified document(s) contained in a pending published application:

The Office will provide public access to a database containing information concerning the status of a pending published application and the content of the application file similar to that contained in the Patent Application Location and Monitoring (PALM) system. Using this database, interested members of the public will be able to ascertain the status of a pending published application to determine whether obtaining a copy of the file wrapper and content of the application or any document(s) in the file wrapper is warranted. In addition, this database can also be used to permit specific identification of the document(s) of which a copy is desired, assuming that obtaining a copy of the entire file wrapper and content is not considered warranted.

The Office specifically proposes to provide a copy of a specifically identified document contained in a pending published application for a fee of $75.00. Each paper in the application file to which a separate paper number is assigned constitutes a document in the application. As the cost of obtaining a pending published application from its location in the various patent application processing organizations throughout the Office is a substantial portion of the cost of providing a copy of the file wrapper and content of a pending published application, the fee for providing a copy of the first requested document from a pending published application must recover the cost of obtaining the application. The Office, however, will provide copies of additional documents from the same application in the same request for a fee of $25.00 per document.

11. After publication, should assignment records of a published application also be made accessible to the public?

Summary: An overwhelming majority of the comments indicated that, upon publication, the assignment records of an application should be accessible to the public.
Response: The Office proposes to change the rules of practice to provide that, upon publication, the assignment records of the application would be available by both application and Patent Application Notice (PAN) number and open to public inspection through the existing Patent Assignment Search System. The Office further proposes to permit applicants to indicate on the assignment cover sheet whether they want assignment information to be printed on the Patent Application Notice. The Office, however, does not propose to require that any assignment information be printed on the Patent Application Notice.

12. After publication, should access include the deposit of biological materials as set forth in § 1.802 et seq.?

Summary: A majority of the comments indicated that, upon publication, any deposit of biological materials should be accessible to the public. A number of comments, however, indicated that such access should be limited in the manner similar to that in European or Japanese laws, or that such access should be limited to experimental use.

Response: Section 1.809(c) currently provides that the applicant need not provide any necessary deposit of biological materials until three (3) months from the mailing of the Notice of Allowance and Issue Fee Due. The deposit of biological materials on filing of an application are often required by foreign laws. Applicants may not be able to claim priority under these laws based upon an earlier United States application filed without any necessary deposit of biological materials. The laws and rules of practice of the United States, however, do not require an applicant to make any deposit of biological materials until the application is allowed. See, In re Lundak, 723 F.2d 1216, 227 USPQ 90 (Fed. Cir. 1985). Accordingly, the Office proposes to change the rules of practice to provide that, upon publication, any deposit of biological materials that has been made would be available after deposit under the same conditions that such deposit of biological material would be available for an issued patent.

13. What types of problems will be encountered if all amendments must be made by (a) substitute paragraphs and claims, (b) substitute pages, or (c) replacement of the entire application?

Summary: A majority of the comments indicated that, if the rules of practice regarding the submission of amendments were changed, a requirement for substitute paragraphs and claims, or substitute pages would be acceptable.
Response: The Office currently considers changes in the procedures for entering amendments into applications to be unnecessary to the current planning approach to implementation of 18-month publication, and, as such, no change to the rules of practice to require substitute paragraphs and claims, substitute pages, or replacement of the entire application is being proposed.

14. Should protest procedures be modified to permit the third-party submission of prior art only prior to a specific period after publication of the application? What action should be taken with respect to untimely submissions by a third party?

Summary: A majority of comments indicated that third party submissions of prior art patents and publications should be permitted for a limited period upon publication, but the overwhelming majority of comments opposed any pre-grant opposition procedure.
Response: The Office does not intend to institute any procedures that would amount to pre-grant opposition. H.R. 1732 was also introduced in the House of Representatives on May 25, 1995, and, if enacted, will expand reexamination, i.e., post-grant opposition, proceedings to provide a third party requester with increased participation rights, including the right to appeal any decisions favorable to patentability to the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences and to the courts. In view of the opposition to pre-grant third party participation, i.e., support for the continued ex parte examination of pending applications, the Office proposes to change the rules of practice to limit the period for filing protests and petitions for the institution of public use proceedings.

The Office proposes to change the rules of practice concerning protests to provide that a submission by a third party in a pending application would be considered if: (1) it is submitted within two months of the date the application was published or prior to the mailing of a notice of allowance under § 1.311, whichever occurs first; (2) the submission has been served on the applicant in accordance with § 1.248 if filed after the date the application was published, and the submission indicates such service; (3) the submission is accompanied by a $220 fee if submitted after publication of the application; and (4) the application is still pending when the submission and application file is brought before the examiner.

The $220 fee for a protest submitted after publication of the application is considered appropriate. Any party submitting a protest after publication has benefitted by the publication of the application. The third party should not obtain this benefit solely at the expense of the patent applicant, but should obtain this benefit only upon payment of a fee. In addition, it is expected that any protest submitted after publication of the application will be considered late in the prosecution of the application, which will cause inconvenience both to the patent applicant and the Office. Therefore, the requirement for the payment of a fee is considered appropriate to defray the costs of the belated consideration of any such submission and discourage the submission of protests having questionable merit.

Third parties may continue to submit information concerning prior public use of the invention in accordance with § 1.292.

Currently, § 1.292 does not set forth a time period within which a petition for the institution of public use proceedings must be filed. The Office proposes to further amend § 1.292 to provide that the public use petition will be entered if submitted within two months of the publication date of the application or prior to the mailing of a notice of allowance under § 1.311, whichever occurs first.

The proposed changes to §§ 1.291 and 1.292 are intended to limit any right of third parties to have information entered and considered in a pending application. They do not vest the applicant with any right to prevent the Office from sua sponte making such information of record in the application or relying upon such information in subsequent proceedings in the application, i.e., they do not limit the authority of the Office to reopen the prosecution of an application to consider any information deemed relevant to the patentability of any claim.

A number of miscellaneous comments concerning the 18-month publication of patent applications were also received.

Comment 1: A number of comments opposed any pre-grant publication of pending applications as an improper limiting of the right of a patent applicant to maintain trade secrets, or argued that any pre-grant publication should not occur prior to 24 or 60 months from the earliest filing date.
Response: H.R. 1733, if enacted, would require the Commissioner to publish pending applications at 18 months. The proposed changes to the rules of practice concern the implementation of an 18-month publication system mandated by statute, not the advisability of an 18-month publication system. If legislation containing provisions for the publication of pending applications is enacted, it is not expected that the Office would have the discretion to determine whether or when pending applications are to be published. That is, it is expected that any legislation containing provisions for the publication of pending applications will mandate whether and when applications are to be published.
Comment 2: A number of comments indicated that the publication of pending applications should be joined with provisional rights.
Response: H.R. 1733, as proposed, provides for provisional rights. This issue, however, was not treated in the 18-Month Publication Notice or this notice of proposed rulemaking since it does not affect the way business is conducted with or within the Office.
Comment 3: One comment indicated that the requirement under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, for a disclosure of a best mode should be eliminated in view of 18-month publication.
Response: The requirement in 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, for a disclosure of a best mode is a statutory, not regulatory, requirement. Therefore, the Office has no authority to eliminate or limit this requirement of the patent statutes.
Comment 4: One comment indicated that any publication of patent applications should address the situation in which: (1) an applicant files a continuing application prior to receiving a patent, and then maintains the pendency of continuing application(s), which are maintained in confidence, to obtain claims of various scope; (2) a second party invests resources in developing a product which does not infringe the claims of the patent, but which the applicant could draft claims in the continuing application(s) to cover; and (3) the applicant then permits a continuing application having claims which covers the second party's product to issue, thus checkmating the second party.
Response: H.R. 1733, if enacted, would provide that applications shall be published "as soon as possible after the expiry of a period of 18 months from the earliest filing date for which a benefit is sought." Any continuing application which claims priority from any prior application would be published either 18 months after the filing date of the earliest filed prior application or as soon as possible after filing of the continuing application, and thus would not be maintained in confidence.

Comment 5: One comment indicated that applicants should obtain the defensive benefit of their filing date in a published application regardless of whether the application issues as a patent, either by statute or rule.
Response: H.R. 1733, if enacted, would provide that a published application is prior art under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as of its filing date. As prior art is defined by statute, i.e., 35 U.S.C. 102, the Office has no authority to promulgate regulations defining what does or does not constitute prior art.
Comment 6: One comment indicated that any rulemaking should be postponed until there is pending legislation, and it is clear as to what form 18-month publication will take.
Response: As legislation has been introduced, it is now appropriate to initiate the rulemaking process, the form that 18-month publication will likely take is known. As such, in light of the changes that would be necessitated by this legislation, the requirement for a rapid implementation, if enacted, and a desire on the part of the Office to receive public input prior to initiating the rulemaking process. If H.R. 1733 is amended during the legislative process, the final rules will comply with this legislation as enacted. If H.R. 1733 is not enacted, the proposed rules that would implement publication of patent applications would be withdrawn.
Comment 7: One comment indicated that it is unclear as to whether, when a restriction requirement is applied, each application will require a separate publication fee.
Response: No separate publication fee has been proposed. In accordance with current practice, each application would require separate filing, issue, and maintenance fees, which fees will be increased to recover the costs of publication.
Comment 8: Several comments indicated that the Office should not impose access fees for either copying the paper application files, or searching and copying a published application from any electronic data base.
Response: As discussed supra, the Office intends to provide free public access to images of the Patent Application Notices and Technical Contents Publications through video display terminals in the Public Search Room and through CD-ROM collections of facsimile images of Patent Application Notices and Technical Contents Publications in the Patent and Trademark Depository Libraries. Copies of the Patent Application Notices, Technical Contents Publications, or copies of the file wrapper and contents of the application will be available for a fee. The costs of publication have been allocated primarily to those applicants whose applications are being published. Since publication primarily benefits those seeking access to the published applications, it is reasonable to require such persons to pay a fee for making copies of the Patent Application Notices and Technical Contents Publications, or obtaining a copy of the file wrapper and application contents of a published application from the Office.
Comment 9: One comment indicated that the publication of applications may result in instances in which third parties will submit information to the applicant directly, rather than to the Office. In instances in which the applicant was previously aware of the information, but did not consider it material, the applicant cannot submit the information to the Office in that application (if after final or allowance), but will be charged with a § 1.56 violation if they do not file a continuation application to have it considered. Thus, § 1.56 should be amended such that an applicant in this situation no longer has a duty to submit information to the Office.
Response: Section 1.56 expressly provides that there is no duty to submit information which is not material to the patentability of any existing claim. Since the applicant previously determined that the information was not material, the fact that a third party has provided this previously known material to the applicant has no effect on the applicant's compliance with § 1.56. Second, since the applicant was previously aware of this information, the applicant is under a duty to bring such information to the attention of the Office if it is material, regardless of the actions of any third party, and the applicant is not under a duty to bring such information to the attention of the Office if it is not material, again regardless of the actions of any third party. In either instance, the third party's actions have no bearing on whether the applicant is in compliance with § 1.56. Therefore, no change to § 1.56 is being proposed.
Comment 10: One comment indicated that § 1.56 should be modified or abolished. Where information is brought to the attention of the applicant after allowance, the applicant should be considered to have met his or her duty of disclosure under § 1.56 if the applicant simply chooses to permit the patent to issue, as the public can take care of itself through reexamination or whatever opposition proceedings are instituted.
Response: As indicated supra, no change to § 1.56 is being proposed. In addition, the Office is proposing to limit third party protest procedures, and is not proposing to develop any procedures amounting to pre-grant opposition. Since the Office is continuing the ex parte examination of applications, the proposed modification or abolition of § 1.56 is not considered appropriate.
Comment 11: One comment indicated that an applicant should be allowed to request early publication.
Response: Section 1.306(d) is being proposed to provide for petitions requesting early publication.
Comment 12: One comment indicated that the Office should require that the text of all applications be filed in digital form, and the publication of applications should be purely digital, i.e., that Office should not print any publication.
Response: 35 U.S.C. 22 provides that "[t]he Commissioner may require papers filed in the Patent and Trademark Office to be printed or typewritten." Therefore, the Office does not currently have the authority to require that application papers be submitted in digital form. The Office is considering the legislative and regulatory changes that would be necessary to permit purely digital filing of application papers; however, requiring all applicants to submit application papers in digital form at this time would place an unnecessary burden on those applicants lacking word-processing resources. In addition, the Office received a substantial number of comments requesting a printed publication containing more information, as well as a number of comments opposing the promulgation of any regulations concerning a standard application format which were in excess of EPO and PCT regulations and not necessary to 18-month publication.
Comment 13: One comment indicated that the Office should clearly define or eliminate the "formal" pre-examination search requirement in MPEP 708.02.
Response: MPEP 708.02(VIII) provides that an application may be granted special status under the condition that, inter alia, the applicant:

> Submits a statement that a pre-examination search was made, and specifying whether by the inventor, attorney, agent, professional searchers, etc., and listing the field of search by class and subclass, publication, Chemical Abstracts, foreign patents, etc. A search made by a foreign patent office satisfies this requirement.

This definition of a pre-examination search is reasonably clear as to what actions are necessary for an applicant to have satisfied this requirement of MPEP 708.02(VIII), and the requirement for a pre-examination search is basic to the justification for granting special status to an application on that basis. No changes to 37 CFR 1.102 are being proposed.
Comment 14: One comment indicated that the publication of applications at 18 months will create a security review problem, especially where a nonprovisional, i.e., 35 U.S.C. 111(a), application claiming the benefit of a prior provisional application not subject to a secrecy order contains additional material which must be reviewed. Therefore, the Office should require that any nonprovisional applications claiming the benefit of a prior provisional application indicate any additional material by underlining and bracketing.
Response: Provisional applications will increase the number of applications requiring security screening. All provisional applications will require security screening immediately after filing in the same manner as nonprovisional applications due to the licensing provision of 35 U.S.C. 184. Any subsequent U.S. patent application claiming the benefit of a prior provisional application will also require security screening unless it is evident on its face that no additional subject matter is contained in the application beyond that in the provisional application. It would be beneficial for the applicant to provide this information to the Office upon filing of the nonprovisional application. Thus, the Office is considering suggesting that applicants employ a standard application transmittal letter similar to the standard transmittal letter for transmitting an international application to the United States Receiving Office (PTO-1382). This standard transmittal letter would indicate, inter alia: (1) any difference between a provisional application and a nonprovisional application claiming the benefit of the provisional application; (2) the residence of the inventor(s) to avoid the unnecessary screening of foreign origin applications; and (3) any Government interests in the application, which applications should be screened through contract provisions.

Comment 15: One comment indicated that the Office should automatically place a secrecy order on any nonprovisional application in which the prior provisional application was under a secrecy order.
Response: The Office does not have the authority to impose a secrecy order without a specific recommendation from a defense agency. 35 U.S.C. 181. Additionally, all secrecy orders include the provision that any other patent application already or hereafter filed in this or any foreign country which contains any significant part of the subject matter of the application under secrecy order also falls within the scope of the secrecy order and must be brought to the immediate attention of Licensing and Review. See § 5.2(d). All papers pertaining to such applications must be filed under the provisions of § 5.33, i.e., to the attention of Licensing and Review. Thus, the applicant is obligated to maintain proper security of any nonprovisional application that claims benefit of a prior provisional application under a secrecy order.
Comment 16: One comment expressed concern that the defense agencies may not have sufficient time to complete national security review of applications made available to them under 35 U.S.C. 181 prior to publication at 18 months from the earliest filing date for which a benefit is sought, and suggested that applications not be published until they have been cleared by the defense agencies.
Response: H.R. 1733, if enacted, would provide for withholding an application from publication beyond 18 months from the earliest filing date for which a benefit is sought if the application is under a secrecy order or abandoned. There is no provision for delaying the publication of an application until a completion of all reviews under 35 U.S.C. 181. In addition, 35 U.S.C. 184 authorizes foreign filing of an application without the need for a license once the application has been on file for at least six (6) months. In view of 35 U.S.C. 184, the defense agencies must complete all security reviews within six (6) months of filing to prevent public disclosure. Thus, security review must be completed within six (6) months of the actual U.S. filing date. For those applications due for publication prior to six (6) months from the actual filing date, e.g., those claiming the benefit of an earlier application filed more than 18 months prior and those which a petition for early publication has been granted, considerations of national security mandate a limited delay in publication. The Office will not pass an application for publication that is still under review by a defense agency unless it has been on file for at least six (6) months and the defense agency has been provided a minimum of three (3) months to review the application.
Comment 17: One comment indicated that the digitized images of the application file contents should be available in magnetic tape form in the morning of the day of publication.
Response: Digitized images of the Patent Application Notice and Technical Contents Publication will be available in magnetic tape form for a fee to all parties as soon as possible after publication similar to the way in which digitized images of granted patents are provided, assuming that there is interest in such products.
Comment 18: One comment indicated that it is unclear as to whether an examiner can cite the Patent Application Notice, and whether the examiner will be required to supply the full application specification.
Response: When an examiner cites a published application, a copy of the Technical Contents Publication will be provided with the Office action under the same conditions that a copy of the entire patent of any cited patent would currently be provided. That is, where an examiner would provide only those portions of a patent relied upon, rather than a copy of the entire patent due to its size, i.e., in instances of jumbo patents, the examiner would similarly be expected to provide only those portions of a published application relied upon in instances of jumbo applications.
Comment 19: One comment indicated that the entire application as filed should be published, otherwise the abandoned published application must be permanently stored in a manner that would permit on-site retrieval.
Response: The Technical Contents Publication of any published application will be electronically available, without any necessity for retrieval of the actual application file. Therefore, a printed publication of the application-as-filed would not provide any information not electronically available. Nevertheless, the actual file of an abandoned application may be readily obtained regardless of where it is stored.
Comment 20: One comment indicated that the 18-Month Publication Notice did not set forth the capacity of Patent and Trademark Depository Libraries (PTDLs) to: (1) collect fees, (2) provide librarians of assistance, and (3) house new publications.
Response: Each PTDL sets its own service standard procedures. Any customer must directly contact the PTDL to ascertain its customer service standards and requirements. Nevertheless, as the Office proposes to publish only a Patent Application Notice, rather than the entire application-as-filed, in printed form, and further proposes to provide the Patent Application Notices and Technical Contents Publications to PTDLs through CD-ROM collections of facsimile images, this publication of applications would appear to alleviate, rather than exacerbate, any publication storage housing problems.
Comment 21: One comment indicated that the Office should provide a first Office action on the merits in all patent applications within 14 months of the actual filing date of the application in the United States.
Response: The ability of the Office to process application within any established time frame is entirely dependent upon the staff and resources allocated by Congress, the Office of Management and Budget (OMB), and the Department of Commerce (DoC). In January of 1995, the first Office action was mailed within 14 months of the actual filing date of the application in the United States in ninety-two (92) percent of all applications in which a first Office action was mailed. Any applicant who absolutely needs a first Office action on the merits mailed within 14 months of the actual filing date of the application should consider a petition to make special using the special examining procedure for certain new applications set forth in MPEP 708.02(VIII). In addition, any independent inventor meeting the requirements set forth in 35 U.S.C. 122(b)(2) and § 1.306(e), as proposed, may wish to consider filing the application with a petition under § 1.306(e).
Comment 22: One comment noted the current procedure of permitting applicants to submit trade secret material and later expunge the material if it is not necessary to patentability, and indicated that new procedures should be implemented in the content of pre-grant publication of pending applications.
Response: The current procedures for the treatment of petitions to expunge trade secret, proprietary, or protective order material are set forth in MPEP 724.05. Applicants are cautioned, in MPEP 724.05, that in instances in which a decision on the petition is not made prior to the date on which the application issues as a patent, any material in the application file will remain open to public inspection, and, as such, petitions to expunge must be filed as soon as possible. Under an 18-month publication system, any material in the application file on the date the application is published would likewise remain open to public inspection. However, as petitions to expunge are considered under § 1.182, i.e., petitions not otherwise provided for, no change to the rules of practice regarding petitions to expunge is being proposed.

Discussion of Specific Rules

Title 37 of the Code of Federal Regulations, Parts 1, 3 and 5, are proposed to be amended as follows:

Section 1.4(a), as proposed, would add Patent Application Notices and Technical Contents Publications to those services and facilities which correspondence with the Office may comprise.

Section 1.5(a), as proposed, would provide that any letter concerning an application must identify on the top page in a conspicuous location, the application number (consisting of the series code and the serial number) or serial number and filing date assigned to that application by the Office, or the international application number of the international application, regardless of whether the application is a published application.

That is, the identification required for a pending or abandoned application would not change due to its status as a published application.

Section 1.5(f), as proposed, would provide that a paper concerning a provisional application must identify the application as such and by the application number.

Section 1.5(g), as proposed, would provide that a paper relating to a Patent Application Notice should identify it as such and by the Patent Application Notice number. That is, a paper concerning a published application must identify the application by application number, not Patent Application Notice number; however, a paper concerning the Patent Application Notice per se must identify it by Patent Application Notice number.

Section 1.9(a), as proposed, would define an international application in subparagraph (a)(4), rather than in paragraph (b).

Section 1.9(b), as proposed, would now define a published application as an application for patent which has been published pursuant to 35 U.S.C. 122(b).

A new § 1.9(h), as proposed, would define national security classified as specifically authorized under criteria established by Act of Congress or Executive Order to be kept secret in the interest of national defense or foreign policy and in fact properly classified pursuant to Act of Congress or Executive Order.

Section 1.11, as proposed, would provide that, like an issued patent or a statutory invention registration, the specification, drawings, and all papers relating to the case in the file of an abandoned published application would be open to inspection by the public. Section 1.11, as proposed, would further provide that a copy of the specification, drawings, and all papers relating to the case in the file of any published application, a patent, or statutory invention registration may be obtained upon the payment of the fee set forth in § 1.19(b)(2). That is, while the actual application file of an abandoned published application, patent, and statutory invention registration would be available for public inspection, the actual application file of a pending published application would not be available for public inspection, but a copy of the specification, drawings, and all papers relating to a pending published application would, upon the payment of the fee set forth in § 1.19(b)(2), be provided to any member of the public.

Section 1.12, as proposed, would provide that the assignment records relating to published applications are available and open to public inspection at the Office, and copies of those assignment records may be obtained upon request and payment of the fee. Section 1.12 would further exclude the assignment records of published applications from those records that are preserved in confidence. Finally, § 1.12, as proposed, would revise paragraph (c) to read "preserved in confidence under § 1.14" for consistency with § 1.14.

Section 1.13, as proposed, would provide that, like an issued patent, certified and non-certified copies of Patent Application Notices, Technical Contents Publications, and the file wrapper and contents of published applications would, upon payment of a fee, be furnished to any person.

Section 1.14, as proposed, would revise the title and paragraphs (a) and (e) to read "preserved in confidence" for consistency with the language in 35 U.S.C. 122.

Section 1.14(a), as proposed, would provide that published applications are excluded from those pending and abandoned applications which are maintained in confidence. Section 1.14(a), as proposed, would further change "the United States of America has been indicated as a Designated State in a published international application" to "a published international application in which the United States of America has been indicated as a Designated State" for clarity, and add "U.S. published application" to those documents in which identification of an application by application number or serial number and filing date would entitle the public to status information concerning the application. Section 1.14(a), as proposed, would further provide that reference to an application in a U.S. published application or patent, or identification of an application by application number or serial number and filing date in a published patent document or a published international application in which the United States of America has been indicated as a Designated State would entitle the public to the application number, filing date, and status information concerning any application claiming the benefit of the identified or referenced application. Finally, § 1.14(a), as proposed, would replace the phrase "serial number" with "application number or serial number and filing date" since the mere reference to a serial number without the series code (application number) or filing date would not constitute a reference to a specific single application.

Section 1.14(b), as proposed, would provide that published applications, as well as applications that are referred to in a published application, are excluded from those abandoned applications which are not open to public inspection. Section 1.14(b), as proposed, would further provide that applications that are referred to in applications open to public inspection pursuant to this section and applications which claim the benefit of an application open to public inspection pursuant to this section are also excluded from those abandoned applications which are not open to public inspection. Finally, § 1.14(b), as proposed, would further remove applications that have been published pursuant to 35 U.S.C. 122(b) from those abandoned applications that may be destroyed after 20 years from their filing date.

Section 1.16(a), (h) and (g), as proposed, would increase the filing fee for an original nonprovisional (35 U.S.C. 111(a)) or reissue application to $780 ($390 for small entities), and plant application to $540 ($270 for small entities). The filing fee for a design application would not be affected by this proposed rule change.

Section 1.17(i), as proposed, would add petitions under § 1.306(d) for early publication of an application, petitions under § 1.306(e) for deferred publication of an application, and under § 1.701(f) for patent term extension based upon administrative delays not specifically provided for to the list of petitions for which the fee set forth in § 1.17(i) is required.

A new § 1.17(t), as proposed, would be added to establish the fee for submitting a protest under § 1.291 after publication of an application.

A new § 1.17(u), as proposed, would be added to establish the surcharge for accepting a late claim for priority under 35 U.S.C. 119(a)-(d) or for the benefit of a prior application under 35 U.S.C. 119(e), 120 or 121 filed during the pendency of the application.

Section 1.18(a) and (c), as proposed, would increase the issue fee for an original or reissue application to $1280 ($640 for small entities), and plant application to $660 ($330 for small entities). The issue fee for a design application would not be affected by this proposed rule change.

Section 1.19(a)(1), as proposed, would add Patent Application Notices to the documents that the Office would supply in the manner of a patent upon payment of a fee.

A new § 1.19(a)(4), as proposed, would add Technical Contents Publications to the documents that the Office would supply upon payment of a fee.

Section 1.19(b)(2), as proposed, would add the file wrapper and contents of published applications to the files that the Office would supply a copy of upon payment of a fee.

Current § 1.19(b)(4), as proposed, would be redesignated as § 1.19(b)(5), and would add the assignment records of published applications to the assignment records that the Office would supply upon payment of a fee.

A new § 1.19(b)(4), as proposed, would provide the fees for a certified or uncertified copy of documents contained in a pending application. Section 1.19(b)(4)(i), as proposed, would provide that the fee for a certified or uncertified copy of the first document contained in a pending application would be $75.00. Section 1.19(b)(4)(ii), as proposed, would provide that the fee for a copy of each commonly requested additional document contained in such pending application would be $25.00. That is, while the fee for the first document contained in a pending application would be $75.00, the fee for a copy of each additional document contained in the same pending application and requested together with the first document would be $25.00. Where, however, a person requests a first document from a pending published application, and subsequently requests an additional document, the additional document was not commonly requested with the first document, and the fee for the additional document would be $75.00. Nevertheless, the fee for any further additional document(s) commonly requested with the additional document would be $25.00 per additional document.

Section 1.19(c), as proposed, would provide that copies of all Technical Contents Publications published annually would also be provided to libraries upon payment of the fee for copies of all patents issued annually.

Section 1.20(e)-(g), as proposed, would increase the fee for maintaining an original or reissue patent in force beyond four years, eight years, and twelve years, respectively, to $1020, $2020, and $3020, respectively ($510, $1010, and $1510, respectively, for small entities).

Section 1.24, as proposed, would add the purchase of copies of Patent Application Notices and Technical Contents Publications to those documents for which the coupons set forth therein may be used.

Section 1.51(a)(1), as proposed, would further provide that a complete application comprises, inter alia, an abstract.

Section 1.52(a), as proposed, would provide that all papers which are to become a part of the permanent records of the Office must be legibly typed in permanent dark ink in portrait orientation on flexible, strong, smooth, non-shiny, durable and white paper. Currently, § 1.52(a) permits such papers to be hand-written, and does not limit the color of the ink or paper, quality of the paper, or orientation of the typing. Section 1.52(a), as proposed, would further provide that the application papers must be presented in a form having sufficient clarity and contrast between the paper and the typing thereon to permit electronic reproduction by use of digital imaging and optical character recognition, as well as the direct reproduction currently provided for. Section 1.52(a), as proposed, would further provide that substitute typewritten papers "will," rather than "may," be required if the original application papers are not of the required quality. As any substitute typewritten papers containing the subject matter of the originally filed application papers would constitute a substitute specification, the provisions of § 1.125 governing the entry of a substitute specification would be applicable, and § 1.52(a), as proposed, would include a specific reference to § 1.125.

Section 1.52(b), as proposed, would provide that the claims must be set forth on a separate sheet. Section 1.72(b) currently provides that the abstract must be set forth on a separate sheet. Thus, §§ 1.52(b), as proposed, and 1.72(b) would require that the abstract and claims be set forth on a separate sheet. Section 1.52(b), as proposed, would further provide that the sheets of paper must be the same size and either 21.0 cm. by 29.7 cm. (DIN size A4) or 21.6 cm. by 27.9 cm (8 1/2 by 11 inches), with a top margin of at least 2.0 cm. (3/4 inch), a left side margin of at least 2.5 cm. (1 inch), a right side margin of at least 2.0 cm. (3/4 inch), and a bottom margin of at least 2.0 cm. (3/4 inch), and that no holes should be provided in the paper sheets. Section 1.52(b) currently provides that papers must be written on but one side, but this phrase is proposed to be changed to "typed on but one side" to conform to § 1.52(a) which, as proposed, would no longer permit hand-written or hand-printed ("written or printed") papers. Section 1.52(b), as proposed, would further provide that the lines "must," rather than "should," be 1 1/2 or double spaced, and that the pages "must," rather than "should," be numbered consecutively, starting with page one, with the numbers being centrally located above or below the text. Finally, § 1.52(b), as proposed, would specifically reference drawings to clarify that drawings are part of the application papers, but that the standards for drawings are set forth in § 1.84.

Section 1.52(d), as proposed, would provide that where an application is filed in a language other than English, the verified English translation of the non-English-language application and the fee set forth in § 1.17(k) are required to be filed with the application or within such time period as may be set by the Office, and that extensions of time pursuant to § 1.136(a) would not be available for submitting the English translation.

Section 1.53(d)(1), as proposed, would further provide that the applicant will be given a time period within which to file an abstract and claims on a separate sheet, or substitute specification in compliance § 1.125 with papers typed on but one side of the paper or new sheets of drawings, each of the substitute specification and sheets of drawings of sufficient clarity, contrast, and quality, and in a proper size and format for electronic reproduction in instances in which the application papers did not comply with §§ 1.52(a) and (b), as proposed, or the drawings were of such poor quality as to preclude their digital image scanning into the electronic data base. Section 1.53(d)(1), as proposed, would further provide that extensions of time pursuant to § 1.136(a) would not be available for filing an abstract and claims on a separate sheet, and a substitute specification with papers typed on but one side of the paper and sheets of drawings, each of sufficient clarity, contrast, and quality and in the proper size and format for electronic reproduction.

Section 1.54(b), as proposed, would provide that the applicant will be informed of the application number, filing date, and projected publication date on a filing receipt. The phrase "application serial number" would be changed to "application number" for consistency with § 1.5(a).

Section 1.55(a), as proposed, would provide that any claim to priority under 35 U.S.C. 119(a)-(d) must be stated within two months of filing or within fourteen months of the date of the prior foreign application, whichever is later, and must identify the prior foreign application by specifying its application number, country, and day, month and year of its filing. The proposed amendment to § 1.55, however, would not affect claims to priority under 35 U.S.C. 172, and would not affect the time periods set forth in § 1.55(a) for the perfection of any claim for priority under 35 U.S.C. 119 (a)-(d), i.e., the filing of a certified copy of the foreign application.

Section 1.55(c), as proposed, would provide a procedure for the acceptance of claim to priority under 35 U.S.C. 119(a)-(d) presented after the time period set in § 1.55(a). The procedure would require the filing of a petition during the pendency of the application requesting acceptance of the delayed claim, the surcharge set forth in § 1.17(u), and a statement that the delay was unintentional.

Section 1.55(d), as proposed, would provide that the time periods set forth in this section, i.e., two months of filing or within fourteen months of the filing date of the prior foreign application as set forth in § 1.55(a), and during the pendency of the application as set forth in § 1.55(c), cannot be extended.

Section 1.58(b), as proposed, would be removed and reserved as unnecessary in view of the proposed amendments to §§ 1.52(a) and (b).

Section 1.58(c), as proposed, would delete the sentence "[i]f it is not possible to limit the width of a formula or table to 5 inches (12.7 cm.), it is permissible to present the formula or table with a maximum width of 10 3/4 inches (27.3 cm.) and to place it sideways on the sheet" and "[h]and lettering must be neat, clean, and have a minimum character height of 0.08 inch (2.1 mm.)" to conform to the typing and paper size and orientation limitations in §§ 1.52(a) and (b), as proposed. Section 1.58(c), as proposed, would further provide metric dimensions with English equivalents in parentheticals, rather than vice versa.

Section 1.60(d), as proposed, would provide that the applicant will be given a time period, which is not extendable under § 1.136(a), within which to file an abstract and claims on a separate sheet, and a substitute specification in compliance with § 1.125 with papers typed on but one side of the paper and sheets of drawings, each of sufficient clarity, contrast, and quality and in the proper size and format for electronic reproduction where the papers of the prior application did not comply with §§ 1.52(a) and (b), as proposed, or the drawings of the prior application were of such poor quality as to preclude their digital image scanning into the electronic data base.

Section 1.62(d), as proposed, would provide that the applicant will be given a time period, which is not extendable under § 1.136(a), within which to file any substitute specification and drawings required under § 1.62(e)(2), discussed infra.

Section 1.62(e), as proposed, would be subdivided into paragraphs (e)(1) and (e)(2) for clarity. Section 1.62(e)(1), as proposed, would contain the first two (2) sentences of § 1.62(e) without change. Section 1.62(e)(2), as proposed, would provide that a substitute specification and drawings would be required when the application being filed under § 1.62 is a continuation-in-part application. Section 1.62(e) currently provides that no copy of the prior application or new specification is required, that the filing of a copy of the prior application or new specification is in fact considered improper, and that a petition with instructions to cancel the copy of the prior application or new specification is necessary to obtain the date of deposit of the request for an application under § 1.62 as the filing date. Section 1.62(e)(2), as proposed, would provide that any new specification filed will not be considered part of the original application papers, but will be treated as a substitute specification in accordance with § 1.125.

Section 1.62(f), as proposed, would amend "35 U.S.C. 122" to read "35 U.S.C. 122(a)" to reflect the changes in H.R. 1733, if enacted, would change "secrecy" to "confidence" as is found in § 1.14, as proposed, and would change "37 CFR 1.14" to "§ 1.14" for consistency.

Section 1.72(b), as proposed, would provide that the abstract should be prior to the first page of the specification, rather than following the claims, to conform to § 1.77, as proposed.

Section 1.75, as proposed, would include an amendment to paragraph (g), and would add two new paragraphs. Section 1.75(g), as proposed, would add the phrase "the least restrictive claim should be presented as claim number 1" to paragraph (g) to facilitate the selection of a representative claim. Section 1.75(h), as proposed, would provide that the claim or claims must be set forth on a separate sheet. Section 1.75(i), as proposed, would provide that where a claim sets forth a plurality of elements or steps, each element or step of the claim should be separated by a line indentation to facilitate the digital image and/or OCR scanning of the claim into the electronic data base.

Section 1.77, as proposed, would provide that the elements of the application, if applicable, should appear in the following order: (1) Utility Application Transmittal Form; (2) Fee Transmittal Form; (3) abstract of the disclosure; (4) title of the invention; or an introductory portion stating the name, citizenship, and residence of the applicant, and the title of the invention may be used; (5) cross-reference to related applications; (6) statement regarding federally sponsored research or development; (7) reference to a "Microfiche appendix; (8) background of the invention; (9), brief summary of the invention; (10) brief description of the several views of the drawing; (11), detailed description; (12) claim or claims; (13) drawings; (14) executed oath or declaration; and (15) sequence listing. The phrase "if applicable" is proposed to be inserted in the heading, rather than associated with any particular listed element, to clarify that § 1.77 does not per se require that an application include all of the listed elements, but merely provides that any listed element included in the application should appear in the order set forth in § 1.77. Section 1.77, as proposed, would further provide that the (1) abstract of the disclosure; (2) title of the invention; (3) cross-reference to related applications; (4) statement regarding federally sponsored research or development; (5) background of the invention; (6) brief summary of the invention; (7) brief description of the several views of the drawing; (8) detailed description; (9) claim or claims; and (10) sequence listing, should appear in upper case, without underlining or bold type, as section headings, and if no text follows the section heading, the phrase "Not Applicable" should follow the section heading. Finally, § 1.77, as proposed, would be amended to change the reference to § 1.96(b) in § 1.77(c)(2), § 1.77(a)(7) as proposed, to § 1.96(c) for consistency with § 1.96, as proposed.

Section 1.78(a)(2), as proposed, would provide that any claim to the benefit of any prior filed copending nonprovisional application or international application designating the United States of America must be stated within two months of filing or fourteen months from the filing date of the prior application, whichever is later, and must include an identification of the prior application by application number.

Section 1.78(a)(3), as proposed, would delete the sentence "[s]ince a provisional application can be pending for no more than twelve months, the last day of pendency may occur on a Saturday, Sunday, or Federal holiday within the District of Columbia which for copendency would require the nonprovisional application to be filed prior to the Saturday, Sunday, or Federal holiday." In view of the proposed amendment in H.R. 1733 to 35 U.S.C. 119(e), the provisions of § 1.7 would be applicable to a nonprovisional application claiming the benefit of a prior provisional application.

Section 1.78(a)(4), as proposed, would provide that any claim to the benefit of any prior filed copending provisional application must be stated within two months of filing or within fourteen months of the filing date of the prior application, whichever is later, and must include an identification of the prior application by application number.

Section 1.78(a)(5), as proposed, would provide a procedure for the acceptance of a delayed claim to priority under 35 U.S.C. 119(e), 120 or 121. The procedure would require the filing of a petition during the pendency of the application requesting acceptance of the delayed claim, the surcharge set forth in § 1.17(u), and a statement that the delay was unintentional.

Section 1.78(a)(6), as proposed, would provide that the time periods set forth in this paragraph, i.e., two months of filing or within fourteen months of the filing date of the prior application as set forth in §§ 1.78(a)(2) and (a)(4), and during the pendency of the application as set forth in § 1.78(a)(5), cannot be extended.

Section 1.78(c), as proposed, would change "two or more applications or an application and a patent" to "an application or a patent under reexamination and an application or a patent" such that the provisions of § 1.78(c) will also be applicable to a patent under reexamination. Section 1.78(c), as proposed, would further correct "inventors and owned by the same party contain conflicting claims" to read "inventors are owned by the same party and contain conflicting claims."

Section 1.78(d), as proposed, would change "obviousness-type double patenting rejection" to "non-statutory double patenting rejection" as current examining procedures authorize non- obviousness-type double patenting rejections, as well as obviousness-type double patenting rejections (MPEP 804(II)), and either may be obviated by filing a terminal disclaimer in accordance with § 1.321(b). Section 1.78(d), as proposed, would further change each instance of "application" to "application or a patent under reexamination" for consistency with § 1.321(b) and to clarify that double patenting is a proper consideration in reexamination (Ex parte Obiaya, 227 USPQ 58, 60-61 (Bd. Pat. App. & Inter. 1985)), and that a non-statutory double patenting rejection in a patent under reexamination may be obviated by filing a terminal disclaimer in accordance with § 1.321(b).

Section 1.84(c), as proposed, would provide that a reference to the application number, or, if an application number has not been assigned, the inventor's name, may be included in the left-hand corner of the drawing sheet, provided that reference appears within 1.5 cm. (9/16 inch) from the top of the sheet. As the back side of a drawing sheet will not be scanned into the electronic data base, an applicant can include other identifying indicia on the back side the drawing sheet.

Section 1.84(f), as proposed, would provide that the size of all drawing sheets in an application must be either 21.0 cm. by 29.7 cm. (DIN size A4) or 21.6 cm. by 27.9 cm. (8 1/2 by 11 inches) to conform to the requirement in § 1.52(b) concerning papers in an application.

Section 1.84(g), as proposed, would be amended to delete the margin requirements for the sheet sizes that would no longer be acceptable if the proposed change to § 1.84(f) were adopted. Section 1.84(g), as proposed, would be further amended to provide that, to facilitate digital image scanning of the drawing sheets, the sheets should have scan targets (cross-hairs) on two cater-corner margin corners. Finally, § 1.84(g), as proposed, would increase the bottom and side margins such that each sheet must include a top margin of at least 2.5 cm. (1 inch), a left side margin of at least 2.5 cm. (1 inch), a right side margin of at least 1.5 cm. (9/16 inch), and a bottom margin of at least 1.0 cm. (3/8 inch), thereby leaving a sight no greater than 17.0 cm. by 26.2 cm. on 21.0 cm. by 29.7 cm. (DIN size A4) drawing sheets, and a sight no greater than 17.6 cm. by 24.4 cm. (6 15/16 by 9 5/8 inches) on 21.6 cm. by 27.9 cm. (8 1/2 by 11 inch) drawing sheets.

Section 1.84(j), as proposed, would provide that one of the views should be suitable for publication in the Patent Application Notice, and the Gazette of Patent Application Notices, as well as the Official Gazette, as the illustration of the invention.

Section 1.84(x), as proposed, would be amended to delete the provisions indicating the proper location for holes in a drawing sheet, and provide that no holes should be provided in the drawing sheets.

Section 1.85, as proposed, would provide that drawings must be suitable for "electronic" reproduction "by digital imaging" before being admitted for examination. As discussed supra, as a drawing figure will be included in the Gazette Entry in the Gazette of Patent Application Notices and the Patent Application Notice, drawings suitable for electronic reproduction by digital imaging would be necessary for the initial processing of the application.

Section 1.96, as proposed, would be amended to designate the text preceding current paragraph (a) as paragraph (a), and would redesignate current paragraphs (a) and (b) as paragraphs (b) and (c), respectively. New § 1.96(a), as proposed, would be further amended to insert a period between "specification" and "[a] computer," to change "these rules" to "this section," and to change "may be submitted in patent applications in the following forms" to "may be submitted in patent applications as set forth in paragraphs (b) and (c) of this section.

New § 1.96(b), as proposed, would be further amended to change the sentences "[t]he listing may be submitted as part of the specification in the form of computer printout sheets (commonly 14 by 11 inches in size) for use as "camera ready copy" when a patent is subsequently printed" and "[s]uch computer printout sheets must be original copies from the computer with dark solid black letters not less than 0.21 cm high, on white, unshaded and unlined paper, the printing on each sheet must be limited to an area 9 inches high by 13 inches wide, and the sheets should be submitted in a protective cover" to "[a]ny listing submitted as part of the specification must be original copies from the computer with dark solid black letters not less than 0.21 cm high, on white, unshaded and unlined paper, and the sheets should be submitted in a protective cover," to delete the sentence "[w]hen printed in patents, such computer printout sheets will appear at the end of the description but before the claims and will usually be reduced about 1/2 in size with two printout sheets being printed as one patent specification page," and to delete the phrase "if the copy is to be used for camera ready copy." Section 1.96(a)(1), new § 1.96(b)(1) as proposed, currently provides that the requirements of § 1.84 apply to computer program listings submitted as sheets of drawings, and § 1.96(a)(2), new § 1.96(b)(2) as proposed, currently provides that the requirements of § 1.52 apply to computer program listings submitted as part of the specification. Section 1.52(b), as proposed, would require that the sheets of paper be the same size and either 21.0 cm. by 29.7 cm. (DIN size A4) or 21.6 cm. by 27.9 cm (8 1/2 by 11 inches), with a top margin of at least 2.0 cm. (3/4 inch), a left side margin of at least 2.5 cm. (1 inch), a right side margin of at least 2.0 cm. (3/4 inch), and a bottom margin of at least 2.0 cm. (3/4 inch), and § 1.52(a), as proposed, would require that application papers be legibly typed in permanent dark ink in portrait orientation.

New § 1.96(c), as proposed, would be amended to change the references to § 1.77(c)(2) in new § 1.96(c) to § 1.77(a)(7) for consistency with § 1.77, as proposed, to change "may" and "should" to "must," to delete the sentence "[a]ll computer program listings submitted on paper will be printed as part of the patent," to relocate the phrase "except as modified or clarified below" in subsection (c)(2), to change the phrase "computer-generated information submitted as an appendix to an application for patent shall be in the form of microfiche in accordance with the standards" to "computer-generated information submitted as a "microfiche appendix" to an application shall be in accordance with the standards" for clarity, to change to sentences "[e]ither Computer-Output-Microfilm (COM) ouput or copies of photographed paper copy may be submitted" and "[i] the former case, NMA standards MS1 and MS2 apply; in the latter case, standard MS5 applies" to "[c]omputer-Output-Microfilm (COM) ouput may be submitted in accordance with either NMA standard MS1 or MS2," to change "serial number" to "application number," and to provide metric dimensions with English equivalents in parentheticals, rather than vice versa.

Section 1.97(a)-(d), as proposed, would be amended to include the phrase "for an applicant for patent or for reissue of a patent, or an owner of a patent under reexamination" in paragraph (a) and "by the applicant or patent owner" to clarify that § 1.97 is not available for any third party seeking to have information considered in a pending application. Any third party seeking to have information considered in a pending application must proceed under §§ 1.291 or 1.292, both discussed infra. Section 1.97(c), as proposed, would be further amended to correct the phrase "certification as specified in paragraph (3) of this section" to read "certification as specified in paragraph (e) of this section."

Section 1.98, as proposed, would provide that any Patent Application Notice or Technical Contents Publication listed in an information disclosure statement must be identified by applicant, Patent Application Notice number or Technical Contents Publication number and publication date. Section 1.98, as proposed, would also limit those U.S. patent applications of which a copy need not be included to unpublished applications.

Section 1.107, as proposed, would provide that if domestic published applications are cited by the examiner, their Technical Contents Publication number, publication date, the names of the applicants must be stated. Section 1.107, as proposed, would be amended to delete the phrase "and the classes of inventions."

Section 1.108, as proposed, would further except published applications from those abandoned applications that will not be cited as references.

Section 1.131(a), as proposed, would include pending or patented U.S. published applications which substantially show or describe but do not claim the same patentable invention, as defined in § 1.601(n), and abandoned U.S. published applications as references to which the provisions of § 1.131 apply. Pending or patented U.S. applications would be treated in the same manner that U.S. patents are currently treated, i.e., § 1.131 would apply only if the pending or patented application does not claim the same patentable invention. Abandoned U.S. published applications would be treated in the manner that foreign patents or printed publications are currently treated. As U.S. published applications, either pending, abandoned or patented, may constitute prior art under 35 U.S.C. 102(a) or (e), this change, and the change to § 1.132 infra, are necessary to accommodate such references.

In a Notice pf Proposed Rulemaking published in the Federal Register at 59 FR 49876 (September 30, 1994) and in the Official Gazette at 1167 Off. Gaz. Office 96-97 (October 25, 1994)(§ 1.131 Notice of Proposed Rulemaking), § 1.131(a) was proposed to be amended to inter alia broaden its application to instances in which inventions of a pending application or patent under reexamination and a patent held by a single party are not identical as set forth in 35 U.S.C. 102, but not patentably distinct, and changes to § 1.131 were adopted as a final rule. 60 FR 21043 (May 1, 1995); 1174 Off. Gaz. Pat. Office 155 (May 30, 1995).

An amendment to § 1.131(a) was proposed to avoid a potential conflict between § 1.131(a) and § 1.602(a) in instances in which § 1.131(a) prohibits the filing of affidavits or declarations thereunder when the same patentable invention as defined in § 1.601(n) is being claimed, but § 1.602(a) prohibits, unless good cause is shown, the declaration or continuance of an interference when the application(s) and patent are owned by a single party. While this conflict between two pending applications can be avoided by filing a continuation-in-part application merging the conflicting inventions into a single application, this conflict can result in hardship where there is a pending application and an issued patent that can no longer be merged by filing a continuation-in-part application.

Specifically, the proposed amendment to § 1.131(a) in the § 1.131 Notice of Proposed Rulemaking would have permitted the filing of an affidavit or declaration thereunder in a pending application or patent under reexamination to avoid a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103 based upon a patent which qualifies as prior art only under 35 U.S.C. 102(a) or (e) where the pending application or patent under reexamination and patent upon which the rejection was based were owned by a single party. This proposed amendment to § 1.131(a) in the § 1.131 Notice of Proposed Rulemaking, however, was withdrawn in the final rule to permit further study.

Section 1.131(a), as currently proposed, would permit a showing of prior invention in a pending application or patent under reexamination to avoid a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103 based upon a patent which qualifies as prior art only under 35 U.S.C. 102(a) or (e), where the application or patent under reexamination and the patent upon which the rejection is based are both owned by a single party, so long as the invention claimed in the pending application or patent under reexamination and in the other patent are not identical as set forth in 35 U.S.C. 102. Section 1.131(a)(3), as proposed, would not require common ownership at the time the latter invention was made, but consistent with § 1.602(a), would require only that there be common ownership when the § 1.131 affidavit or declaration is under consideration.

Where the patent upon which the rejection is based is not prior art under 35 U.S.C. 102(a) or (e), but is prior art only under 35 U.S.C. 102(f) or (g), to the pending application or patent under reexamination, and the invention claimed in the pending application or patent under reexamination is not identical as set forth in 35 U.S.C. 102, the issue is whether the subject matter of the other patent and the invention claimed in the pending application or patent under reexamination were, at the time the invention was made, owned by the same person or subject to an obligation of assignment to the same person, i.e., whether the patent upon which the rejection is based is disqualified as prior art under the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 103, and §§ 1.78(c) and (d) are applicable to this issue. Where, however, the patent upon which the rejection is based is prior art under 35 U.S.C. 102(a) or (e), it cannot be disqualified as prior art under the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 103, and as such §§ 1.78(c) and (d) are inapplicable. Section 1.131(a)(3), as currently proposed, would permit a showing of prior invention in an application or patent under reexamination where the application or patent under reexamination and patent upon which the rejection was based were owned by a single party.

As the conflict between two pending applications can be avoided by filing a continuation-in-part application merging the conflicting inventions into a single application, § 1.131(a)(3), as proposed, provides only for a showing of prior invention to avoid a rejection based upon a patent. In situations in which two pending applications claiming patentably indistinct but not identical inventions are held by a single party but cannot be merged into a single application, petitions under § 1.183 will be entertained for waiver of the § 1.131 requirement that the rejection be based upon a patent.

Section 1.131, as proposed, would not affect a statutory or non- statutory double patenting rejection. Specifically, affidavits or declarations under § 1.131 will continue to be ineffective where the claims of the pending application or the patent undergoing reexamination are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 for double patenting and the claims of the pending application or the patent under reexamination claim the identical invention of a patent. However, where patentably indistinct but not identical inventions are claimed, a non-statutory double patenting rejection can be overcome by filing an appropriate terminal disclaimer.

Section 1.132, as proposed, would change "domestic" to "U.S." for consistency with § 1.131, and would include U.S. pending published applications which substantially show or describe but do not claim the invention, and abandoned published applications as references to which the provisions of § 1.132 apply for the reasons discussed supra.

Section 1.136(a), as proposed, would provide that extensions under § 1.136(a) are not available where the response is to a requirement for an English translation, an abstract or claims on a separate sheet, or substitute specification or sheets of drawings of sufficient clarity, contrast, and quality and in the proper size and format for electronic reproduction submitted pursuant to §§ 1.52(d), 1.53(d), 1.60(d), 1.62(d), 1.494(c), or 1.495(c), or an oath or declaration submitted pursuant to §§ 1.494(c) or 1.495(c).

Section 1.138, as proposed, would add "or publication" to the end of the sentence that "express abandonment of the application may not be recognized by the Office unless it is actually received by appropriate officials in time to act thereon before the date of issue" to clarify that the express abandonment must be filed in sufficient time to permit its correlation with the application file and the termination of the publication process. Section 1.138, as proposed, would further provide that an applicant seeking to abandon an application to avoid publication of the application must submit a proper letter of express abandonment at least two months prior to the projected date of publication to allow sufficient time to permit the appropriate officials to recognize the abandonment and remove the application from the publication process, and that unless an applicant receives written acknowledgement of the letter of express abandonment prior to the projected date of publication, applicant should expect that the application will be published in due course.

Section 1.154, as proposed, would provide that the elements of a design application, if applicable, should appear in the following order: (1) Design Application Transmittal Form; (2) Fee Transmittal Form; (3) preamble, stating name of the applicant and title of the design; (4) cross-reference to related applications; (5), statement regarding federally sponsored research or development; (6) description of the figure or figures of the drawing; (7) description; (8) claim; (9) drawings or photographs; and (10) executed oath or declaration. The phrase "[t]he following order of arrangement should be observed in framing design specifications" is proposed to be changed to "[t]he elements of the design application, if applicable, should appear in the following order" to clarify that § 1.154 does not per se require that an application include all of the listed elements, but merely provides that any listed element included in the application should appear in the order set forth in § 1.154.

A new § 1.163(c), as proposed, would be added to provide that the elements of a plant application, if applicable, should appear in the following order: (1) Plant Application Transmittal Form; (2) Fee Transmittal Form; (3) abstract of the disclosure; (4) title of the invention; (5) cross-reference to related applications; (6) statement regarding federally sponsored research or development; (7) background of the invention; (8) brief summary of the invention; (9) brief description of the drawing; (10) detailed botanical description; (11) claim; (12) drawings (in duplicate); (13) executed oath or declaration; and (14) Plant Color Coding Sheet. The phrase "if applicable" is proposed to be included in the heading, rather than associated with any particular listed element, to clarify that § 1.163 does not per se require that an application include all of the listed elements, but merely provides that any listed element included in the application should appear in the order set forth in § 1.163.

A new § 1.163(d), as proposed, would be added to define a plant color coding sheet. A plant color coding sheet is a sheet that specifies a color coding system as designated in a recognized color dictionary, and lists every plant structure to which color is a distinguishing feature and the corresponding color code which best represents that plant structure. The plant color coding sheet will provide a means for applicants to uniformly convey detailed color characteristics of the plant. Providing this information is a systematic manner will facilitate the examination of the application.

Section 1.291, as proposed, would provide that a protest must be filed within two months of the date the application is published or prior to the mailing of a Notice of Allowance, whichever occurs first, to be considered timely, and that any protest submitted after publication must be accompanied by the fee set forth in § 1.17(t). In addition, § 1.291(a)(2), as proposed, would require that any protest filed after the date the application was published be served upon the applicant in accordance with § 1.248, i.e., filing two copies of the protest in the Office would not be acceptable. As a protest cannot be considered subsequent to issuance of the application as a patent, § 1.291(b), as proposed, would provide that the protest will be considered if the application is still pending when the protest and application file is brought before the examiner, i.e., that the application was pending at the time the protest was filed would be immaterial to its ultimate consideration. Finally, § 1.291, as proposed, would further locate the sentences "[p]rotests raising fraud or other inequitable conduct issues will be entered in the application file, generally without comment on those issues" and [p]rotests which do not adequately identify a pending patent application will be disposed of and will not be considered by the Office" in paragraph (b).

Section 1.292, as proposed, would be amended to delete the phrase "is filed by one having information of the pendency of an application" as applications will no longer necessarily be maintained in confidence throughout their entire pendency, and would move the requirement for the fee set forth in § 1.17(j) from paragraph (a) to paragraph (b) where the conditions for entry of a petition for the institution of public use proceedings are set forth. Section 1.292, as proposed, would further require that any petition filed after the date the application was published be served on the applicant in accordance with § 1.248. Finally, § 1.292, as proposed, would provide that a petition to institute public use proceedings must be filed within two months of the date the application is published or prior to the mailing of a Notice of Allowance, whichever occurs first, to be considered timely.

Sections 1.305 through 1.309 are proposed to be added to set forth the procedures for the 18-month publication of patent applications.

Section 1.305, as proposed, would provide that applications may be withdrawn from publication at the initiative of the Office or upon request by the applicant. The basis for the withdrawal of an application from publication would be limited to: (1) a mistake on the part of the Office, e.g., the application is abandoned or has issued as a patent, or the projected publication date is not at 18 months from the earliest filing date for which a benefit is sought; (2) the application is either national security classified or subject to a secrecy order pursuant to 35 U.S.C. 181; or (3) express abandonment of the application.

Section 1.306(a), as proposed, would provide that applications under 35 U.S.C. 111(a), 161 or 371 will be published as soon as possible after the expiration of a period of 18 months from the filing date, including the earliest filing date for which a benefit is sought, but excludes applications that: (1) are national security classified or subject to a secrecy order pursuant to 35 U.S.C. 181; (2) have issued as a patent; (3) are recognized by the Office as no longer pending, i.e., are abandoned; or (4) were previously published through early publication.

Section 1.306(b), as proposed, would provide that the publication of an application will include a notice designated as a "Gazette Entry" containing information such as the application number, filing date, title, inventor's name, abstract, a drawing figure, a representative claim, and U.S. and IPC classification in a Gazette of Patent Application Notices, and a printed publication designated as a Patent Application Notice or PAN containing information such as the application number, filing date, title, inventor's name, correspondence address, abstract, a drawing figure, a representative claim, and U.S. and IPC classification. In addition, § 1.306(b), as proposed, would provide that the publication of an application will include a document designated as a Technical Contents Publication containing the Patent Application Notice, and the specification, abstract, claims, and drawings of the original application papers. Finally, § 306(b), as proposed, would provide that publication would include public access to a copy of the specification, drawings, and all papers relating to the application file in accordance with § 1.11.

Section 1.306(c), as proposed, would provide that provisional applications under 35 U.S.C. 111(b) shall not be published, and that design applications under 35 U.S.C. 171 and reissue applications under 35 U.S.C. 251 shall not be published pursuant to § 1.306. H.R. 1733, if enacted, would not authorize the publication of design applications (prior to their issuance as patents) or provisional applications. Reissue applications are currently published through the announcement in the Official Gazette of the filing of the reissue application, and the opening of the application to public inspection in accordance with § 1.11(b).

Section 1.306(d), as proposed, would provide for the early publication of applications. Any request for early publication of an application should be filed as soon as possible, and must be by way of petition, including the fee set forth in § 1.17(i). In addition, any application must include an abstract and claims on a separate sheet, any substitute specification or drawings required pursuant to §§ 1.53(d), 1.60(d), or 1.62(d), and any English translation required pursuant to § 1.52(d). The Office cannot assure publication of an application on any certain date, and, as such, requests for publication on a date certain will be treated as a request for publication as soon as possible. Finally, as H.R. 1733, if enacted, would not authorize the publication of provisional applications, no consideration will be given to any request for the early publication of a provisional application.

Section 1.306(e), as proposed, would implement the provisions in H.R. 1733 (35 U.S.C. 122(b)(2)) for, under limited circumstances, not publishing an application under 35 U.S.C. 122(b) until three months after an Office action under 35 U.S.C. 132. Section 1.306(e), as proposed, would specifically provide that an applicant who is an independent inventor and has been accorded status under 35 U.S.C. 41(h) in an application that does not claim the benefit of an earlier filing date under 35 U.S.C. 119, 120, 121, 365(a) or 365(c) may request that the application not be published until three months after an action on the merits, and that a petition requesting that the application not be published until three months after an action on the merits must be submitted on filing, and accompanied by the petition fee set forth in § 1.17(i) and a certification that the invention disclosed in the application was not or will not be the subject of an application filed in a foreign country, which certification must be verified if made by a person not registered to practice before the Patent and Trademark Office.

Section 1.307, as proposed, would provide for the delivery of the printed publication, i.e., the Patent Application Notice or PAN, to the correspondence address of record, which is the manner in which a patent is currently delivered to the patentee.

Section 1.308, as proposed, would provide for the correction of the printed publication, but such correction would be granted only for a significant mistake made by the Office which is apparent from Office records.

Section 1.315, as proposed, would change "the attorney or agent of record, if there be one; or if the attorney or agent so requests, to the patentee or assignee of an interest therein; or, if there be no attorney or agent, to the patentee or to the assignee of the entire interest, if be so requests" to "the correspondence address of record. See § 1.33(a)" for simplicity as patents are currently mailed to the patentee at the correspondence address of record.

Section 1.321(c), as proposed, would change "double patenting rejection" to "non-statutory double patenting rejection" for consistency with § 1.78(c), as proposed, and to clarify that the filing of a terminal disclaimer is ineffective to overcome a statutory double patenting rejection.

Section 1.492(a), as proposed, would increase the basic national fee for international applications entering the national stage under 35 U.S.C. 371 to: (1) $710 ($355 for a small entity) where an international preliminary examination fee as set forth in § 1.482 has been paid on the international application to the Office; (2) $780 ($390 for a small entity) where no international preliminary examination fee as set forth in § 1.482 has been paid to the Office, but an international search fee as set forth in § 1.445(a)(2) has been paid on the international application to the Office as an International Searching Authority; (3) $1040 ($520 for a small entity) where no international preliminary examination fee as set forth in § 1.482 has been paid and no international search fee as set forth in § 1.445(a)(2) has been paid on the international application to the Office; (4) $120 ($60 for a small entity) where the international preliminary examination fee as set forth in § 1.482 has been paid to the Office and the international preliminary examination report states that the criteria of novelty, inventive step (non-obviousness), and industrial applicability, as defined in PCT Article 33(1) to (4) have been satisfied for all the claims presented in the application entering the national stage (see § 1.496(b)); and (5) $910 ($455 for a small entity) where a search report on the international application has been prepared by the European Patent Office or the Japanese Patent Office.

Section 1.494(c) and (g), as proposed, would provide that the applicant will be given a time period within which to file an abstract and claims on a separate sheet, or substitute specification in compliance § 1.125 with papers typed on but one side of the paper or new sheets of drawings, each of the substitute specification and sheets of drawings of sufficient clarity, contrast, and quality, and in a proper size and format for electronic reproduction in instances in which the application papers did not comply with §§ 1.52(a) and (b), as proposed, or the drawings were of such poor quality as to preclude their digital image scanning into the electronic data base. Section 1.494(c), as proposed, would further provide that extensions of time pursuant to § 1.136(a) would not be available for filing an English translation, oath or declaration, abstract and claims on a separate sheet, and a substitute specification with papers typed on but one side of the paper and sheets of drawings, each of sufficient clarity, contrast, and quality and in the proper size and format for electronic reproduction.

Section 1.495(c) and (h), as proposed, would provide that the applicant will be given a time period within which to file an abstract and claims on a separate sheet, or substitute specification in compliance § 1.125 with papers typed on but one side of the paper or new sheets of drawings, each of the substitute specification and sheets of drawings of sufficient clarity, contrast, and quality, and in a proper size and format for electronic reproduction in instances in which the application papers did not comply with §§ 1.52(a) and (b), as proposed, or the drawings were of such poor quality as to preclude their digital image scanning into the electronic data base. Section 1.495(c), as proposed, would further provide that extensions of time pursuant to § 1.136(a) would not be available for filing an English translation, oath or declaration, abstract and claims on a separate sheet, and a substitute specification with papers typed on but one side of the paper and sheets of drawings, each of sufficient clarity, contrast, and quality and in the proper size and format for electronic reproduction.

The proposed rules to implement 18-month publication provide that extensions of time pursuant to § 1.136(a) are not available for submissions which will affect the publication of the application. Section 1.53(d)(1), as proposed, does not exclude extensions of time pursuant to § 1.136(a) for the filing of an oath or declaration as the absence of an oath or declaration for an application filed under 35 U.S.C. 111(a) does not affect the publication of the application. Section 1.306(a), as proposed, does not provide for the publication of a national application for patent which resulted from an international application until after compliance with 35 U.S.C. 371, and an international application is not in compliance with 35 U.S.C. 371 until an oath or declaration is filed. See 35 U.S.C. 371(c)(4). Therefore, the absence of an oath or declaration will affect the publication of an application under 35 U.S.C. 371. Accordingly, §§ 1.494(c) and 1.495(c), unlike § 1.53(d)(1), provide that the period for filing the oath or declaration cannot be extended pursuant to § 1.136(a) to consistently provide that extensions of time pursuant to § 1.136(a) are not available for submissions which will affect the publication of the application.

Section 1.497(a), as proposed, would be amended to provide that an applicant in an international application must file an oath or declaration that: (1) is executed in accordance with either §§ 1.66 or 1.68, (2) identifies the specification to which it is directed, (3) identifies each inventor and the country of citizenship of each inventor, and (4) states that the person making the oath or declaration believes the named inventor or inventors to be the original and first inventor or inventors of the subject matter which is claimed and for which a patent is sought, rather than an oath or declaration in accordance with § 1.63, to enter the national stage pursuant to §§ 1.494 or 1.495. Currently, the failure to file an oath or declaration in strict compliance with § 1.63 results in non-compliance with § 1.497, and thus 35 U.S.C. 371, which in turn delays the entry of the international application into the national stage. To expedite the entry of international applications into the national stage, § 1.497(a), as proposed, would require only an oath or declaration that is properly executed, identifies the specification to which it is directed, and, as required by 35 U.S.C. 115, identifies each inventor and the country of citizenship of each inventor and states that the person making the oath or declaration believes the named inventor or inventors to be the original and first inventor or inventors of the subject matter which is claimed and for which a patent is sought.

Section 1.497(b), as proposed, would be subdivided into paragraphs (b)(1) and (b)(2). Section 1.497(b)(1), as proposed, would provide that the oath or declaration must be made by all of the actual inventors except as provided for in §§ 1.42, 1.43 or 1.47. Section 1.497(b)(2), as proposed, would change "[i]f the international application was made as provided in §§ 1.422, 1.423 or 1.425, the applicant shall state his or her relationship to the inventor and, upon information and belief, the facts which the inventor is required by § 1.63 to state" to "[i]f the person making the oath or declaration is not the inventor (§§ 1.42, 1.43 or 1.47), the oath or declaration shall state the relationship of the person to the inventor and, upon information and belief, the facts which the inventor is required to state" such that § 1.497(b), as proposed, would be parallel to § 1.64.

Section 1.497(c), as proposed, would be added to provide that the oath or declaration must comply with the requirements of § 1.63. Section 1.497(c), as proposed, would further provide that in instances in which the oath or declaration does not comply with § 1.63, but meets the requirements of § 1.497(a) and (b), as proposed, the oath or declaration will be accepted as complying with 35 U.S.C. 371(c)(4) and §§ 1.494(c) or 1.495(c), thus permitting the application to enter the national stage and the assignment of dates under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) and 371(c). A supplemental oath or declaration in compliance with § 1.63, however, will be required in accordance with § 1.67.

Section 1.701(a), as proposed, would add "an unusual administrative delay by the Office" to the bases for extension of patent term due to prosecution delay. H.R. 1733 provides that the Commissioner shall prescribe regulations to govern the particular circumstances deemed to be an unusual administrative delay. Section 1.701(a)(4)(i), as proposed, would set forth the failure to act on a reply under § 1.111 or appeal brief under § 1.192 within six months of the date it was filed; the failure to act on an application within six months of the date of a decision under § 1.196 by the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences where claims stand allowed in an application or the nature of the decision requires further action by the examiner; and the failure to issue a patent within six months of the date that the issue fee was paid and all outstanding requirements were satisfied as circumstances constituting a prima facie unusual administrative delay. In an application entitled to an extension under § 1.701(a)(3), however, any unusual administrative delay during the appellate proceeding would be disregarded under § 1.701(a)(4) in accordance with the "not overlapping" provision in § 1.701(b). Requests for patent term extension based upon circumstances not specifically set forth in § 1.701(a)(4)(i) as a prima facie unusual administrative delay must be specifically requested by petition and would be considered on a case-by-case basis. Section 1.701(a), as proposed, would further add "subject to the provisions of this section" and delete the phrase "if the patent is not subject to a terminal disclaimer due to the issuance of another patent claiming subject matter that is not patentably distinct from that under appellate review" from paragraph (a)(3).

Section 1.701(b), as proposed, would add paragraph (c)(4) to those paragraphs summed in calculating the period of extension, and change the maximum extension from five years to ten years in accordance with H.R. 1733.

Section 1.701(c), as proposed, would provide that the period of delay is the sum of the number of days, if any, in the period of unusual delay by the Office. That is, the ordinary delay in processing and examining an application would not be included under § 1.701(c), as proposed, in determining the extension under § 1.701(b). For example, (1) where there was a failure to act on a reply under § 1.111 within six months of the date it was filed, the period of delay is the number of days in excess of six months, if any, in the period beginning on the date a reply under § 1.111 was filed and ending on the mailing date of an action in response thereto, (2) where there was a failure to act on an appeal brief under § 1.192 within six months of the date it was filed, and the application is not entitled to an extension under § 1.701(a)(3), the period of delay is the number of days in excess of six months, if any, in the period beginning on the date an appeal brief under § 1.192 was filed and ending on the mailing date of either a notification under § 1.192(d) or examiner's answer under § 1.193, and (3) where there was a failure to issue a patent within six months of the date that the issue fee was paid and all outstanding requirements were satisfied, § 1.701(a)(3), the period of delay is the number of days in excess of six months, if any, in the period beginning on the date the issue fee was paid or all outstanding requirements were satisfied, whichever is later, and the date the patent was issued.

Section 1.701(d), as proposed, would change "[t]he period of delay set forth in paragraph (c)(3)" to "[t]he period set forth in paragraph (c)," as the limitation on patent term extension in H.R. 1733 based upon an applicant's failure to engage in reasonable efforts to conclude processing or examination of the application is not limited to extension under 35 U.S.C. 154(b)(2), i.e., delays during appellate proceedings. Section 1.701(d), as proposed, would further delete "any time during the period of appellate review that occurred before three years from the filing date of the first national application for a patent presented for examination." Public Law 103-465 provides that extensions under 35 U.S.C. 154(b)(2) shall be reduced by any time during the period of appellate review that occurred before three years from the filing date of the first national application for patent presented for examination, where H.R. 1733 provides only that no patent shall be extended under 35 U.S.C. 154(b) that has issued before the expiration of three years after the filing date of the application or entry of the application into the national stage under 35 U.S.C. 371, whichever is later, not taking into account any claim to the benefit of the filing date of any application under 35 U.S.C. 120, 121, or 365(c).

Section 1.701(d), as proposed, would further change "any time during the period of appellate review, as determined by the Commissioner, during which the applicant for patent did not act with due diligence" and "[i]n determining the due diligence of an applicant, the Commissioner may examine the facts and circumstances of the applicant's actions during the period of appellate review to determine whether the applicant exhibited that degree of timeliness as may reasonably be expected from, and which is ordinarily exercised by, a person during a period of appellate review" to "any time during the processing or examination of the application, as determined by the Commissioner, during which the applicant for patent failed to engage in reasonable efforts to conclude processing or examination of the application," "[i]n determining whether an applicant failed to engage in reasonable efforts to conclude processing or examination of the application, the Commissioner may examine the facts and circumstances of the applicant's actions during the entire prosecution of the application to determine whether the applicant exhibited that degree of timeliness as may reasonably be expected from, and which is ordinarily exercised by, an applicant for patent seeking to conclude the processing or examination of the application," and "[c]ircumstances constituting a failure to engage in reasonable efforts to conclude processing or examination of the application include: (1) requesting suspension of action under § 1.103, and (2) abandonment of the application."

H.R. 1733 provides that the period of extension under 35 U.S.C. 154(b) shall be reduced by a period equal to the time during the processing or examination of the application leading to the patent in which the applicant failed to engage in reasonable efforts to conclude processing or examination of the application and that the Commissioner shall prescribe regulations establishing the circumstances that constitute a failure of an applicant to engage in reasonable efforts to conclude processing or examination of an application. Section § 1.701(d) specifically sets forth requesting suspension of action under § 1.103 and abandonment of the application as examples of prima facie failures to engage in reasonable efforts to conclude processing or examination of the application. In determining whether an applicant engaged in reasonable efforts to conclude processing or examination of the application, however, the facts and circumstances of applicant's actions during the entire prosecution of the application will be considered on a case-by-case basis to determine whether the applicant exhibited that degree of timeliness as may reasonably be expected from, and which is ordinarily exercised by, an applicant for patent seeking to conclude the processing or examination of the application. As such, it is not possible to list all of the specific circumstances in § 1.701(d). That is, circumstances other than the examples specifically set forth § 1.701(d) may, on a case-by-case basis, be considered the failure to engage in reasonable efforts to conclude the processing or examination of the application.

A new § 1.701(e), as proposed, would provide that no patent shall be extended under this section: (1) beyond the expiration date specified in a terminal disclaimer in a patent whose term has been disclaimed in such terminal disclaimer, or (2) an instance in which the patent issued before the expiration of three years after the filing date of the application or entry of the application into the national stage under 35 U.S.C. 371, whichever is later, not taking into account any claim to the benefit of the filing date of any application under 35 U.S.C. 120, 121, or 365(c). H.R. 1733 provides these limitations on extensions under 35 U.S.C. 154(b).

A new § 1.701(f), as proposed, would provide that any extension of patent term under § 1.701(a)(4) on the basis of an administrative delay other than one specifically set forth in §§ 1.701(a)(4)(i)(A)-(C) must be requested by petition. Due to the necessity for individualized determinations of patent term extensions based upon prosecution delay due to an unusual administrative delay by the Office not specifically provided for, such extensions of patent term under § 1.701(a)(4) must be specifically requested by petition in a timely manner. Section 1.701(f), as proposed, would specifically provide that any petition for patent term extension based upon § 1.701(a)(4) for an unusual administrative delay by the Office other than one specifically set forth in §§ 1.701(a)(4)(i)(A)-(C) cannot be filed prior to the mailing of a notice of allowance under § 1.311 and must be accompanied by a statement of the facts involved, the administrative delay by the Office to be reviewed, the period of extension requested, and the fee set forth in § 1.17(i). The petition may include a request that the petition fee be refunded if an extension of the patent term under § 1.701(a)(4) is granted.

Section 1.808(a), as proposed, would provide that upon the publishing of the application, all restrictions imposed by the depositor on the availability to the public of the deposited material will be irrevocably removed, subject to provisions of § 1.808(b).

Section 3.31, as proposed, would provide that the assignment cover sheet may, but need not, include an indication that the assignment information is to be printed on the Patent Application Notice. Section 3.31, as proposed, would further provide that, due to constraints in the publication process, any such indication not submitted within two months of filing or fourteen months from the earliest filing date for which a benefit is claimed, whichever is later, may result in the assignment information not being printed on the Patent Application Notice.

Section 5.1, as proposed, would include a new paragraph (c) which would provide defense agencies adequate time to complete national security review under 35 U.S.C. 181 before an application would be released for publication under § 1.306. Specifically, the period for completion of a defense agency review would be six (6) months from the actual U.S. filing date for applications filed under 35 U.S.C. 111(a) or three (3) months from the date the application was made available to the defense agency for review, whichever is later.

Section 5.1, as proposed, would further include a new paragraph (d) which would set forth the current practice that applications on inventions not made in the United States and on inventions in which the Federal Government has a known property interest are not made available to defense agencies under § 5.2(b).

A new § 5.9, as proposed, would set forth the procedures for the treatment of national security classified applications. The procedures set forth in this section, except for those pertaining to the publication of applications pursuant to § 1.306, are the current procedures for the treatment of national security classified applications. It is, however, considered appropriate to implement these procedures through the rulemaking process.

35 U.S.C. 181 authorizes the withholding of the grant of a patent on an application that has been placed under a secrecy order; however, title 35, United States Code, does not specifically authorize the withholding of the grant of a patent on an application that is national security classified, but not placed under a secrecy order. Nevertheless, the Office is prohibited by Executive Order and statute from disclosing a national security classified application. Therefore, procedures for obtaining a secrecy order pursuant to 35 U.S.C. 181 on a national security classified application, or the declassification of such application, are necessary.

Section 5.9(a), as proposed, would provide that patent applications and papers that are national security classified and contain authorized national security markings of "Confidential," "Secret" or "Top Secret" are accepted by the Office, that national security classified documents mailed to the Office must be addressed in compliance with § 5.33, and that national security classified documents may be hand-carried to Licensing and Review.

Section 5.9(b), as proposed, would provide that a national security classified patent application will not be published pursuant to § 1.306 or allowed pursuant to § 1.311 of this chapter until the application is declassified.

Section 5.9(c), as proposed, would clarify that, in a national security classified application, it is the applicant's responsibility to either obtain a secrecy order pursuant to § 5.2, or have the application declassified by the relevant department or agency. Section 5.9(c), as proposed, would further provide that in a national security classified patent application filed without a notification pursuant to § 5.2(a), i.e., a recommendation for imposition of a secrecy order from the relevant department or agency, the Office will set a time period within which the application must be declassified, a secrecy order must be obtained, or evidence of a good faith effort to obtain a secrecy from the relevant department or agency must be presented in order to prevent abandonment of the application.

Section 5.9(d), as proposed, would provide for instances in which, after an effort to obtain a secrecy order, the national security classified application has not been declassified and a secrecy order has not been obtained. Section 5.9(d), as proposed, would specifically provide that in each instance in which the national security classified application has not been declassified and a secrecy order has not been obtained, but the applicant has presented evidence of a good faith effort to obtain a secrecy order, the Office will again set a time period within which the application must be declassified, a secrecy order pursuant to § 5.2 must be obtained, or evidence of a good faith effort to again obtain a secrecy order pursuant to § 5.2 from the relevant department or agency must be presented in order to prevent abandonment of the application. This process will reiterate until the application becomes abandoned, e.g., through a lack of a good faith effort to obtain a secrecy order or failure to prosecute under 35 U.S.C. 133, the application is declassified, or a secrecy order is obtained.

Other Considerations

The proposed rule changes are in conformity with the requirements of the Regulatory Flexibility Act (5 U.S.C. 601 et seq.), Executive Order 12612, and the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1980, 44 U.S.C. 3501 et seq.

The Assistant General Counsel for Legislation and Regulation of the Department of Commerce has certified to the Chief Counsel for Advocacy, Small Business Administration, that these proposed rule changes will not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities (Regulatory Flexibility Act, 5 U.S.C. 605(b)). The principal impact of these proposed changes is to require that application papers be filed in a format which permits their digital image and OCR scanning into an electronic data base, and that claims for the benefit of the filing date of prior foreign and domestic applications be submitted promptly to permit publication of the application at 18 months from the earliest filing date for which a benefit is sought.

The Office has also determined that this notice has no Federalism implications affecting the relationship between the National Government and the States as outlined in Executive Order 12612.

These proposed rule changes contain a collection of information requirements subject to the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1980, 44 U.S.C. 3501 et seq. The initial patent application filing is currently approved by the Office of Management and Budget under Control No. 0651-0032. Public reporting burden for the collection of information for filing the initial patent application is estimated to average 11 hours per response, including the time for reviewing instructions, searching existing data sources, gathering and maintaining the data needed, and completing and reviewing the collection of information.

The Fee Transmittal form, Utility Patent Application Transmittal form, Design Patent Application Transmittal form, Plant Patent Application Transmittal form, Plant Color Coding Sheet, Declaration form, and Plant Patent Application Declaration form will reduce the burden and uncertainty associated with the submission of an application and related information, and enhance the Office's ability to use standardized automation routines (optical character recognition, etc.) to record and process information concerning applications. Public reporting burden for these collections of information is estimated to average:(1) 12 minutes per response for the Fee Transmittal form, (2) 12 minutes per response for the Utility Patent Application Transmittal form, (3) 12 minutes per response for the Design Patent Application Transmittal form, (4) 12 minutes per response for the Plant Patent Application Transmittal form, (5) 12 minutes per response for the Plant Color Coding Sheet, (6) 24 minutes per response for the Declaration form, and (7) 24 minutes per response for the Plant Patent Application Declaration. These estimates include the time for reviewing instructions, searching existing data sources, gathering and maintaining the data needed, and completing and reviewing the collections of information.

The assignment cover sheet is currently approved by the Office of Management and Budget under Control No. 0651-0027. Public reporting burden for the collection of information on the assignment cover sheet is estimated to average 30 minutes per response, including the time for reviewing instructions, searching existing data sources, gathering and maintaining the data needed, and completing and reviewing the collection of information.

Send comments regarding this burden estimate or any other aspect of this collection of information, including suggestions for reducing this burden to the Office of Assistance Quality and Enhancement Division, Patent and Trademark Office, Washington, D.C. 20231, and to the Office of Information and Regulatory Affairs, Office of Management and Budget, Washington, D.C. 20503 (ATTN: Paperwork Reduction Act Projects 0651-0027 and 0651-0032). The Fee Transmittal form, Utility Patent Application Transmittal form, Design Patent Application Transmittal form, Plant Patent Application Transmittal form, Plant Color Coding Sheet, Declaration form, and Plant Patent Application Declaration form have been submitted to the Office of Management and Budget for clearance under the Paperwork Reduction Act. See 60 FR 35174 (July 6, 1995). Written comments and recommendations for the proposed information collection should be sent to Maya A. Bernstein, OMB Desk Officer, room 10236, New Executive Office Building, Washington, D.C. 20230.

§ 1.5 Identification of application, patent, or registration.

(a) No correspondence relating to an application should be filed prior to when notification of the application number is received from the Patent and Trademark Office. Any correspondence not containing such identification will be returned to the sender where a return address is available. The returned correspondence will be accompanied with a cover letter which will indicate to the sender that if the returned correspondence is resubmitted to the Patent and Trademark Office within two weeks of the mail date on the cover letter, the original date of receipt of the correspondence will be considered by the Patent and Trademark Office as the date of receipt of the correspondence. Applicants may use either the Certificate of Mailing or Transmission procedure under § 1.8 or the Express Mail procedure under § 1.10 for resubmissions of returned correspondence if they desire to have the benefit of the date of deposit in the United States Postal Service. If the returned correspondence is not resubmitted within the two-week period, the date of receipt of the resubmission will be considered to be the date of receipt of the correspondence. The two-week period to resubmit the returned correspondence will not be extended. If for some reason, returned correspondence is resubmitted with proper identification later than two weeks after the return mailing by the Patent and Trademark Office, the resubmitted correspondence will be accepted but given its date of receipt. In addition to the application number, all letters directed to the Patent and Trademark Office concerning applications for patents should also state "PATENT APPLICATION," the name of the applicant, the title of the invention, the date of filing the same, and, if known, the group art unit or other unit within the Patent and Trademark Office responsible for considering the letter and the name of the examiner or other person to which it has been assigned.

(b) Applicant will be informed of the application [serial] number c,b [and] filing date c, and projected publication dateb by a filing receipt.

19. Section 1.55 is proposed to be amended by revising paragraph (a) and adding paragraphs (c)-(d) to read as follows:

§ 1.55 Claim for foreign priority.

(a) An applicant in a nonprovisional application may claim the benefit of the filing date of a prior foreign application under the conditions specified in 35 U.S.C. 119 (a)-(d) and 172. The claim to priority cunder 35 U.S.C. 172b need be in no special form and may be made by the attorney or agent if the foreign application is referred to in the oath or declaration as required by § 1.63. cThe claim to priority under 35 U.S.C. 119(a)-(d) must be presented within two months of filing or fourteen months from the filing date of the prior foreign application, whichever is later, must identify the prior foreign application by specifying its application number, country, and the day, month and year of its filing, and may be made by the attorney or agent if the foreign application is referred to in the oath or declaration as required by § 1.63.b The [claim for priority and the] certified copy of the foreign application specified in 35 U.S.C. 119(b) must be filed in the case of an interference (§ 1.630), when necessary to overcome the date of a reference relied upon by the examiner, when specifically required by the examiner, and in all other cases, before the patent is granted. If the [claim for priority or the] certified copy of the foreign application is filed after the date the issue fee is paid, it must be accompanied by a petition requesting entry and by the fee set forth in § 1.17(i). If the certified copy filed is not in the English language, a translation need not be filed except in the case of interference; or when necessary to overcome the date of a reference relied upon by the examiner; or when specifically required by the examiner, in which event an English language translation must be filed together with a statement that the translation of the certified copy is accurate. The statement must be a verified statement if made by a person not registered to practice before the Patent and Trademark Office.

• • • • •

c(c) If a claim to priority under 35 U.S.C. 119(a)-(d) is presented after the time period provided by paragraph (a) of this section, the claim may be accepted if the claim identifying the prior foreign application by specifying its application number, country, and the day, month and year of its filing is filed during the pendency of the application and the delay in stating the claim was unintentional. A petition to accept a delayed claim to priority under 35 U.S.C. 119(a)-(d) must be accompanied by:

(1) The surcharge set forth in § 1.17(u); and,
(2) A statement that the delay was unintentional. The statement must be a verified statement if made by a person not registered to practice before the Patent and Trademark Office. The Commissioner may require additional information where there is a question whether the delay was unintentional.

• • • • •

(b) c[Reserved]b [All tables and chemical and mathematical formulas in the specification, including claims, and amendments thereto, must be on paper which is flexible, strong, white, smooth, non-shiny, durable in order to permit use as camera copy when printing any patent which may issue. A good grade of bond paper is acceptable; watermarks should not be prominent. India ink or its equivalent, or solid black typewriter, should be used to secure perfectly black solid lines.]

(c) To facilitate camera copying when printing, the width of formulas and tables as presented should be limited normally to c12.7 cm. (5 inches)b [5 inches (12.7 cm.)] so that it may appear as a single column in the printed patent. [If it is not possible to limit the width of a formula or table to 5 inches (12.7 cm.), it is permissible to present the formula or table with a maximum width of 10 3/4 inches (27.3 cm.) and to place it sideways on the sheet.] Typewritten characters used in such formulas and tables must be from a block (nonscript) type font or lettering style having capital letters which are at least c2.1 mm. (0.08 inch)b [0.08 inch (2.1 mm.)] high (e.g., elite type). [Hand lettering must be neat, clean, and have a minimum character height of 0.08 inch (2.1 mm.)]. A space at least c.64 cm. (1/4 inch)b [1/4 inch (6.4 mm.)] high should be provided between complex formulas and tables and the text. (e)c(1)b an application filed under this section will utilize the file wrapper and contents of the prior application to constitute the new continuation, continuation-in-part, or divisional application but will be assigned a new application [serial] number. Changes to the prior application must be made in the form of an amendment to the prior application as it exists at the time of filing the application under this section.

c(2)b No copy of the prior [application or new] specification cor drawingsb is required c, unless the application is a continuation-in-part application containing any additional disclosure, in which case a substitute specification in compliance with § 1.125 and drawings are required. Any new specification filed will not be considered part of the original application papers, but will be treated as a substitute specification in accordance with § 1.125b. [The filing of such a copy or specification will be considered improper, and a filing date as of the date of deposit of the request for an application under this section will not be granted to the application unless a petition with the fee set forth in § 1.17(i) is filed with instructions to cancel the copy or specification.]

(f) The filing of an application under this section will be construed to include a waiver of cconfidenceb [secrecy] by the applicant under 35 U.S.C. 122c(a)b to the extent that any member of the public who is entitled under the provisions of c§b [37 CFR] 1.14 to access to, or information concerning either the prior application or any continuing application filed under the provisions of this section may be given similar access to, or similar information concerning, the other application(s) in the file wrapper.

Cross-references to other related applications may be made when appropriate. (See § 1.14(b)).

(3) A nonprovisional application other than for a design patent may claim an invention disclosed in one or more prior filed copending provisional applications. [Since a provisional application can be pending for no more than twelve months, the last day of pendency may occur on a Saturday, Sunday, or Federal holiday within the District of Columbia which for copendency would require the nonprovisional application to be filed prior to the Saturday, Sunday, or Federal holiday.] In order for a nonprovisional application to claim the benefit of one or more prior filed copending provisional applications, each prior provisional application must name as an inventor at least one inventor named in the later filed nonprovisional application and disclose the named inventor's invention claimed in at least one claim of the later filed nonprovisional application in the manner provided by the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112. In addition, each prior provisional application must be:

c(5) If a claim to the benefit of any prior filed copending nonprovisional application or international application designating the United States of America is presented in a nonprovisional application after the time period provided by subparagraph (a)(2) of this section, or if a claim to the benefit of any prior filed copending provisional application is presented in a nonprovisional application other than for a design patent after the time period provided by subparagraph (a)(4) of this section, the claim may be accepted in the application if the claim identifying the prior application by application number or international application number and international filing date is filed during the pendency of the application and the delay in stating the claim was unintentional. A petition to accept a delayed claim to the benefit of a prior filed copending application must be accompanied by:

(i) The surcharge set forth in § 1.17(u); and,
(ii) A statement that the delay was unintentional. The statement must be a verified statement if made by a person not registered to practice before the Patent and Trademark Office. The Commissioner may require additional information where there is a question whether the delay was unintentional.

(6) The time periods set forth in this paragraph cannot be extended.b

(c) Where canb [two or more] application[s,]cor a patent under reexaminationb [or an application] and can application orb a patent naming different inventors careb [and] owned by the same party candb contain conflicting claims, and there is no statement of record indicating that the claimed inventions were commonly owned or subject to an obligation of assignment to the same person at the time the later invention was made, the assignee may be called upon to state whether the claimed inventions were commonly owned or subject to an obligation of assignment to the same person at the time the later invention was made, and if not, indicate which named inventor is the prior inventor. In addition to making said statement, the assignee may also explain why an interference should or should not be declared.

(d) Where an application cor a patent under reexaminationb claims an invention which is not patentably distinct from an invention claimed in a commonly owned patent with the same or a different inventive entity, a double patenting rejection will be made in the application cor a patent under reexaminationb. cA non-statutoryb [An obviousness-type] double patenting rejection may be obviated by filing a terminal disclaimer in accordance with § 1.321(b).

(3) appellate review by the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences or by a Federal court under 35 U.S.C. 141 or 145, if the patent was issued pursuant to a decision reversing an adverse determination of patentability c; and/orb [and if the patent is not subject to a terminal disclaimer due to the issuance of another patent claiming subject matter that is not patentably distinct from that under appellate review.]

c(4) an unusual administrative delay by the Office.

(i) Circumstances constituting an unusual administrative delay by the Office include the failure to:

(A) act on a reply under § 1.111 or appeal brief under § 1.192 within six months of the date it was filed;

(B) act on an application within six months of the date of a decision under § 1.196 by the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences where claims stand allowed in an application or the nature of the decision requires further action by the examiner (§ 1.197); and

(C) issue a patent within six months of the date that the issue fee was paid or all outstanding requirements were satisfied, whichever is later.b

(b) The term of a patent entitled to extension under paragraph (a) of this section shall be extended for the sum of the periods of delay calculated under paragraphs (c)(1), (c)(2), (c)(3) c, (c)(4)b and (d) of this section, to the extent that these periods are not overlapping, up to a maximum of ctenb [five] years. (i) with respect to each interference in which the application was involved, the number of days, if any, in the period beginning on the date the interference was declared or redeclared to involve the application in the interference and ending on the date that the interference was terminated with respect to the application; and

(ii) the number of days, if any, in the period beginning on the date prosecution in the application was suspended by the Patent and Trademark Office due to interference proceedings under 35 U.S.C. 135(a) not involving the application and ending on the date of the termination of the suspension.

(2) The period of delay under paragraph (a)(2) of this section for an application is the sum of the following periods, to the extent that the periods are not overlapping:

(i) the number of days, if any, the application was maintained in a sealed condition under 35 U.S.C. 181;

(ii) the number of days, if any, in the period beginning on the date of mailing of an examiner's answer under § 1.193 in the application under secrecy order and ending on the date the secrecy order and any renewal thereof was removed;

(iii) the number of days, if any, in the period beginning on the date applicant was notified that an interference would be declared but for the secrecy order and ending on the date the secrecy order and any renewal thereof was removed; and

(iv) the number of days, if any, in the period beginning on the date of notification under § 5.3(c) and ending on the date of mailing of the notice of allowance under § 1.311.

(3) The period of delay under paragraph (a)(3) of this section is the sum of the number of days, if any, in the period beginning on the date on which an appeal to the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences was filed under 35 U.S.C. 134 and ending on the date of a final decision in favor of the applicant by the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences or by a Federal court in an appeal under 35 U.S.C. 141 or a civil action under 35 U.S.C. 145.

(d) The period [of delay] set forth in paragraph (c)[(3)] shall be reduced by cany time during the processing or examination of the application, as determined by the Commissioner, during which the applicant for patent failed to engage in reasonable efforts to conclude processing or examination of the application. In determining whether an applicant failed to engage in reasonable efforts to conclude processing or examination of the application, the Commissioner may examine the facts and circumstances of the applicant's actions during the entire prosecution of the application to determine whether the applicant exhibited that degree of timeliness as may reasonably be expected from, and which is ordinarily exercised by, an applicant for patent seeking to conclude the processing or examination of the application. Circumstances constituting a failure to engage in reasonable efforts to conclude processing or examination of the application include:

(1) requesting suspension of action under § 1.103, and

(2) abandonment of the application.b [:

(1) any time during the period of appellate review that occurred before three years from the filing date of the first national application for patent presented for examination; and

(2) any time during the period of appellate review, as determined by the Commissioner, during which the applicant for patent did not act with due diligence. In determining the due diligence of an applicant, the Commissioner may examine the facts and circumstances of the applicant's actions during the period of appellate review to determine whether the applicant exhibited that degree of timeliness as may reasonably be expected from, and which is ordinarily exercised by, a person during a period of appellate review.]

c(e) No patent term shall be extended under this section:

(1) beyond the expiration date specified in a terminal disclaimer in a patent whose term has been disclaimed in such terminal disclaimer;

(2) in a patent issued before the expiration of three years after the filing date of the application or entry of the application into the national stage under 35 U.S.C. 371, whichever is later, not taking into account any claim to the benefit of the filing date of any application under 35 U.S.C. 120, 121, 365(c).

(f) Any extension of patent term under paragraph (a)(4) of this section on the basis of an administrative delay other than one specifically set forth in paragraphs (a)(4)(i)(A)-(C) must be requested by petition. A petition for an extension of patent term based upon unusual administrative delay by the Office other than one specifically set forth in paragraphs (a)(4)(i)(A)-(C) cannot be filed prior to the mailing of a notice of allowance under § 1.311 and must be accompanied by:

(1) a statement of the facts involved, the administrative delay by the Office to be reviewed, and the period of extension requested; and,

(2) the fee set forth in § 1.17(i). The petition may include a request that the petition fee be refunded if an extension of the patent term under paragraph (a)(4) of this section is granted.b

Reference Collections of U.S. Patents and Trademarks Available for Public Use in Patent and Trademark Depository Libraries

The following libraries, designated as Patent and Trademark Depository Libraries (PTDLs), receive patent and trademark information in various formats from the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office. Many PTDLs have on file all full-text patents issued since 1790, trademarks published since 1872, and select collections of foreign patents. All PTDLs have both the patent and trademark sections of the Official Gazette of the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office. The full-text utility and design patents are distributed numerically on 16 mm microfilm, and plant patents on color microfiche. Patent and trademark search systems on CD-ROM (Compact Disc-Read Only) format are available at all PTDLs to increase utilization of and enhance access to the information found in patents and trademarks. It is through the CD-ROM systems that preliminary patent and trademark searches can be conducted through the numerically arranged collections.

All information is available for use by the public free of charge.

In addition, each PTDL offers reference publications which outline and provide access to the patent and trademark classification systems, as well as other documents and publications which supplement the basic search tools. PTDLs provide technical staff assistance in using all materials. Facilities for making paper copies of patent and trademark information are generally provided for a fee.

Since there are variations in the scope of patent and trademark collections among the PTDLs, and their hours of service to the public vary, anyone contemplating use of these collections at a particular library is urged to contact that library in advance about its collections, services, and hours in order to avert possible inconvenience.

*A communication from the examiner should have been received in most applications filed prior to this date.

Patents will Expire as Follows:
(1) The term of any utility or plant patent that is in force on or results from an application filed before June 8, 1995 is the greater of the 20 year term provided in 35 U.S.C. 154(a)(2) or 17 years from grant subject to any terminal disclaimers. 35 U.S.C. 154(c)(1).
(2) All utility and plant patents granted on applications having an actual United States filing date on or after June 8, 1995 are granted for a term which begins on the date on which the patent is granted and ends 20 years from the date on which the application was filed in the United States. If the application contains a specific reference to an earlier application under 35 U.S.C. 120, 121 or 365(c), the patent term ends twenty years from that date on which the earliest application was filed. 35 U.S.C. 154(a)(2).
(3) All design patents are granted for a term of 14 years from the date of the grant.
However, the term of any patent may have been curtailed by disclaimer under the provisions of 35 U.S.C. 153, have lapsed due to failure to pay maintenance fees, or have been extended under the provisions of 35 U.S.C. 154, 155, or 156. Thus, if more reliable information is needed with respect to a particular patent, then the specific patent file should be reviewed to determine the actual date of patent expiration.

SECTION 1.—INTERNATIONAL CLASSIFICATION

The short titles associated below with the international class numbers are terms designed merely for quick identification and are not an official part of the international classification. The full names of international classes are given in section 6.1 of the trademark rules of practice.

The designation "U.S. Cl." appearing in this section refers to the U.S. class in effect prior to Sep. 1, 1973 rather than the international class which applies to applications filed on or after that date. For adoption of international classification see notice in the OFFICIAL GAZETTE of Jun. 26, 1973 (911 O.G. TM 210).
